Refuses to Grant Review to State Public Service Body

MURPHY SEATED

Former Attorney General Takes Oath as Supreme Court Justice

Washington (AP)—The supreme court refused today to review litigation involving the "prudent investment" theory of valuing public utilities for rate-making purposes and an order by the Wisconsin Public Service Commission directing the Wisconsin Telephone company to reduce its rates by 8 per cent.

The state commission sought a review of a decision by the Wisconsin Supreme Court setting aside the rate reduction order on the ground that it did not permit a reasonable return on the fair value of the property.

It was contended by the commission that the state supreme court had erroneously accepted the view expressed in some United States Supreme Court decisions that reproduction cost must control in determining rates that will allow a reasonable return on property of a public utility.

Backs Wisconsin Ruling
The commission said this doctrine had been limited, if not overruled, by the United States Supreme Court after the "prudent investment" theory had been proposed.

In refusing a review, the supreme court said today this action was taken because the justices were "unable to find that the decision of the highest court of the state did not rest upon an adequate non-federal ground."

The prudent investment method of valuation has been backed by President Roosevelt, the justice department and other government agencies. The Wisconsin Public Service commission, in its petition to the supreme court here, said it approved this method "wholeheartedly."

The justice department has defined "prudent investment" as "the amount reasonably and honestly invested in public utility properties used and useful in the public service."

The Wisconsin commission said the rate order entitled customers to refunds which aggregated $2,742,255 as of Jan. 1, 1939.

Murphy Takes Oath
President Roosevelt's fifth appointee to the supreme court, Frank Murphy of Michigan, began services on the tribunal today after taking an oath to administer justice impartially.

Justices appointed by Mr. Roosevelt thus constitute a majority of the nine-man tribunal.

The oath was given in open court by Charles Elmore Cropley, the clerk, after Murphy had marched into the chamber with his colleagues. Justice Black was absent because of illness.

Labor Leaders Lash at Many U. S. Policies

A.F.L. Group Wants Americans to 'Recognize Dangers'

RAPS 'EXPERIMENTS'

Finds 'Widespread Material Sufferings' and Fear for Future

Miami, Fla. (AP)—Sharp criticism of the national government's industrial and social economy policies of the last seven years was contained today in a statement issued by a group of American Federation of Labor leaders.

In a report entitled "A Call for United Action," the group declared "the hour has come for Americans to recognize the dangers that confront them, and to join in a united effort to halt the drift toward national insolvency, industrial collapse, and the extension of opportunity for the Americans of tomorrow."

The statement bore the names of William L. Hutchison and Matthew Wolf, first and third vice presidents, respectively, of the American Federation of Labor, and seven other labor leaders.

Many of them are here attending a mid-winter conference of the federation's executive council.

Rap "Innovations"
Describing many of the government's policies as an "experiment," the statement declared that "innovation after innovation have followed upon each other so fast and furiously that only a trained few could keep abreast of changes."

"If, after seven years, the situation of labor, industry and agriculture had materially improved, if happiness and progress, hope and confidence had resulted," the statement continued, "we could conclude that the experiment had been worthwhile."

"Instead, we find labor torn into warring camps. We find industry depressed and capital on a strike. We find ten millions of America's workers unemployed. We find youth discontented and age discouraged."

"Fear for Liberties"
"We find not only widespread material sufferings, but in every walk of life we find fear for the great intangibles of America, fear for the liberties that Americans have cherished for more than a century and a half."

Later, at a press conference, William Green, federation president, said he would take no official cognizance of the statement and that the executive council had "no connection whatever" with it.

"It is the privilege of any individual or group to make any statement they choose upon any subject they choose," Green said.

Expect Approval For Trade Pacts
Canvass Indicates Senate Will Favor Program Extension

Washington (AP)—A preliminary canvass by administration leaders was reported today to indicate senate approval of extending the reciprocal trade program.

Although the survey was incomplete, one of the senators who has been making it said there was every reason to believe that not more than a dozen Democrats would join the 23 Republicans in opposing the legislation.

Administration strategists said there apparently would be stronger sentiment in the senate for senate ratification of each trade pact, but they expressed confidence they had the votes to defeat an amendment of that nature.

TO GIVE MILLIONS
Charles Stewart Mott (above), vice president of General Motors Corp., said in El Paso, Texas, that he plans to give away 100,000 shares of General Motors stock—but refused to name the recipient. On the basis of current quotations, the gift would be worth more than $5,000,000.

Milk Pool Cases Go to Trial Today

In Oconto Court

Involve Wisconsin and Lena Cooperatives. St. Paul Bank

Oconto (AP)—Trial of a series of interlocking court actions involving the Wisconsin Cooperative Milk Pool, the Lena Cooperative Milk Pool and the St. Paul (Minn.) Bank for Cooperatives began today before Circuit Judge Arold F. Murphy.

A milk plant at Lena is the hub of the actions. It was created in 1934 by the Milk Products cooperatives and subsequently was taken over by the Wisconsin Milk Pool.

It was agreed by 160 farmer members of the Lena pool that 10 cents would be deducted from the sale price for every hundred pounds of milk until the $73,000 plant was paid for, after which they would receive title to the plant.

The Wisconsin Milk Pool filed a foreclosure action, charging that the Lena cooperative which went into receivership last spring had ceased making payments and had $46,000 due on a mortgage.

Look Over Oconto Plant
In the meantime, the Lena cooperative had purchased the Oconto milk plant of the Bowman Dairy company, giving the St. Paul bank a $55,000 mortgage. The bank also is pressing foreclosure and replevin actions against the Lena cooperative.

A countersuit against the Wisconsin Milk Pool, asking approximately $100,000, was filed by the receiver for the Lena pool and Charles Peep, a farmer claiming to represent the 160 members.

The countersuit claims the Wisconsin Milk Pool failed to pay for $16,000 worth of milk delivered last summer; that for four and a half years the Wisconsin pool paid lower than prevailing prices for milk, entitling members to nearly $30,000, and that nonpayment of milk prices constituted a breach of contract and grounds for obtaining return of $39,546.79 collected in the 10 cent check-off.

The St. Paul bank cases against the Lena pool will be the first to be tried.

Student Rescued From Mountain Is Given 'Good Chance'
Littleton, N. H. (AP)—Rescued after being lost 28 hours on blizzard-swept slopes of lofty Mt. Washington, Webster N. Jones, Jr., 19, Harvard sophomore and son of Carnegie Tech's director of engineering, was given a "good chance" today of recovering from the ordeal.

Physicians said that although it would be several days before the effects of his experience could be determined fully, he was in no immediate danger and his condition was "fair." A preliminary examination showed that his toes were seriously frost-bitten and that he was suffering from shock and exposure.

Finns Report 3 Red Attacks Are Repulsed

Much Military Equipment Falls Into Hands of Defenders

NIGHT AIR RAIDS

Soviet Fliers Apparently Dropping Bombs at Random

London (AP)—Reuters, British news agency, reported in a dispatch from Helsinki tonight that the Russian 18th division had been "annihilated" at Kiteala, a short distance north of Lake Ladoga.

Helsinki (AP)—Finnish forces northeast of Lake Ladoga killed more than 500 Russian soldiers and captured much booty in repulsing three new Russian attacks, the Finnish army declared in today's communique.

Two of the Russian attacks were against island positions; the third was against shore positions on the lake, the communique said.

"Our troops captured another enemy stronghold, killing the majority of the defenders," the communique continued. "The enemy dead numbered over 500. Seven tanks, four guns, large quantities of other arms, more than 30 automobiles of various types and other war materials fell into our hands."

The Finns said that Russian attacks also were repulsed at Summa, on the Karelian isthmus in the extreme southeast, and at Markajarvi, in the north near the Arctic circle.

"Enemy Driven Back"
The attack in the Summa sector occurred yesterday, the communique said.

"The attack was stopped before it had time to develop, whereupon the enemy attempted to dig in before our positions but was driven back to his starting positions," it said.

The Finns said their air force "carried out successful reconnoitering and bombing flights during which enemy troops, air bases, etc. were bombed."

The communique reported that fire "appeared to have broken out" in a monastery at Valamo after a Russian air raid.

A new Russian practice, night air raids on Finland's blacked-out towns, was reported today.

Seek Posthumous Pardon for Parker
Lewisburg, Pa. (AP)—The presidential pardon sought for Ellis Parker, Sr., famed small-town detective who went to prison in a sequel to the Lindbergh baby kidnapping case, will be a posthumous one if granted.

Death cheated the 68-year-old former Mt. Holly, N. J., sleuth yesterday of a chance for freedom from the Northeastern federal penitentiary here, where he was serving a six-year sentence on conspiracy charges resulting from his activities in the Lindbergh investigation.

But while his family arranged funeral services, his attorney, Harry Green, announced he would press for a posthumous pardon "for the purpose of vindicating the old man's name." Green added that he would seek similar clemency for Parker's son, Ellis, Jr., who is serving a three-year sentence on the same charge.

Member of Labor Board Opposed to Proposed Changes

Smith Says A.F.L. Amendments Would Prove Unworkable

Washington (AP)—Edwin S. Smith, a member of the labor relations board, told house investigators today that Wagner act amendments proposed by the A. F. of L. and others would be unworkable, dangerous and destructive of the central purposes of the act.

He said the essential feature of these amendments was to make it mandatory upon the board to establish a craft unit for collective bargaining whenever a majority of the members of a craft desired it.

Denying charges that he had shown bias in favor of industrial unions of the C. I. O. and against A. F. of L. craft unions, Smith said the problem of determining the appropriate unit for collective bargaining transcended the C. I. O.-A. F. of L. rivalry.

Denies Power Usurped
In cases before the board, Smith said, the A. F. of L. had asked certification of craft unions as the proper units for bargaining in 176 cases, and of industrial unions in approximately 345 cases.

Denying the board had usurped power to determine the bargaining unit, he cited statements made by William Green, A. F. of L. president, prior to passage of the Wagner act, that if an employer and employee were unable to decide on the proper unit the board should decide the question.

Smith was asked his opinion of the proposal of Lloyd K. Garrison, dean of the University of Wisconsin Law school and former chairman of the board, that the task of deciding between rival C. I. O. and A. F. of L. unions be taken out of the board's hands.

He replied that the Garrison suggestion had much to commend them and should receive serious consideration.

Devroy Is Facing Murder Sentence
Green Bay (AP)—Joseph Devroy was sentenced today to serve a life term in Wisconsin state prison for the slaying of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Emily Kaiser. Circuit Judge Henry Graess overruled a motion for a new trial.

Judge Defers Action Pending Decision on Arguments for New Trial
Green Bay (AP)—Circuit Judge Henry Graess deferred pronouncement of sentence on Joseph Devroy, convicted of first degree murder, until later today while he considered new trial arguments presented by Defense Attorney Raymond Evrard.

Evrard asked a new trial on grounds the court had erred when it excluded third degree manslaughter as a possible jury verdict. He also argued that R. J. Farrell, assistant district attorney, should not have been permitted to participate in the case because he had been retained to handle the estate of Mrs. Emily Kaiser, for whose slaying the jury found Devroy guilty Jan. 31.

Evrard also contended that it was improper to separate the jury during the time it was locked up over a weekend. He said four of the jurors had been taken for an automobile ride by Judge Graess.

Mrs. Kaiser, Devroy's mother-in-law, and the defendant's wife, Mrs. Lena Devroy, were shot to death last July 25, a few hours after Devroy was sued for divorce.

SUCCUMBS
Fred W. Sargent, 63, who retired last May as president of the Chicago and North Western railroad, died yesterday at Evanston, Ill. He had been in the railroad industry for more than a quarter century.

Fred W. Sargent, Former Railroad Chief, Succumbs

Ill Health Forced Retirement as North Western Head Last May

Chicago (AP)—Fred W. Sargent, who less than a year ago retired as president of the Chicago and North Western railroad, a post he had held for 14 years, is dead at the age of 63.

The railroad official and Chicago civic leader died yesterday in suburban Evanston hospital, where he had been confined for the last month. Ill health was given as the reason for Sargent's retirement May 24 as head of the North Western.

Sargent had been in the railroad industry for more than a quarter of a century. Before his appointment as solicitor general of the North Western in 1920 he was state attorney for the Rock Island railroad for eight years. He was named vice president and general counsel of the North Western in 1923. Two years later he was elevated to the presidency. Until his retirement he also served as president of the Chicago, Minneapolis and Omaha Railway company.

Shortly before Sargent's retirement, Charles M. Thomson, former trustee of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois railroad, was appointed trustee of the North Western by Federal Judge John P. Barnes. On July 24 Sargent died.

Deficit Erased
Earlier in the all-day session, the committee cheered the news that a $250,000 party deficit had been more than wiped out by over $400,000 in receipts from the recent Jackson day dinners.

Farley lent weight to talk that the committee would take no action on a convention date at today's meeting but would turn the job over to a subcommittee. This subcommittee could act after the Republican national committee had selected a date in a meeting here Feb. 16.

"Why not wait and see what the Republicans have to offer?" Farley remarked.

He indicated that if the Republicans met in late June or early July, the Democrats convention might be held immediately afterward.

Farley Has Kind Word For Garner in Speech At Capital

Washington (AP)—Chairman James A. Farley told the Democratic National Committee today that the party's biggest job was to win over some 10,000,000 independent voters "who will cast their ballots for the best candidates and the best program that is offered."

The committee was gathered for an all-day session at the Willard hotel, to pick a convention city.

Farley, predicting "a very active pre-convention campaign," noted that there were many who would like to have the Democratic presidential nomination. He mentioned by name, however, only Vice President Garner.

Garner's name came up in the chairman's expression of thanks for the assistance given him by members of the committee, "including sturdy, stalwart John Nance Garner."

Garner himself had some kind words for Farley when he introduced him as "one of the most efficient, kindest and most agreeable fellows to work with I know."

As Farley spoke, there were growing indications that Philadelphia might obtain the 1940 convention. The Democrats met there in 1936, and a Philadelphia delegation was prepared to offer a certified check for $125,000 to obtain this year's meeting. It also was learned that the delegation held another certified check of an undisclosed amount which was to be offered in event some other city topped the $125,000 bid.

Although San Francisco representatives indicated they would have as much as $235,000 available, they did not claim to have the sum in ready cash.

Earlier in the all-day session, the committee cheered the news that a $250,000 party deficit had been more than wiped out by over $400,000 in receipts from the recent Jackson day dinners.

Farley lent weight to talk that the committee would take no action on a convention date at today's meeting but would turn the job over to a subcommittee. This subcommittee could act after the Republican national committee had selected a date in a meeting here Feb. 16.

Hook Refuses Any 'Concession' In House Fight

Defends Inclusion of Letters in Record. Even If They're Forgeries

Washington—(U-P)—Representative Hook (D-Mich.) refused today to "concede anything" as to the validity of letters purporting to link Chairman Dies (D-Texas) of the house committee on un-American activities with William Dudley Pelley, Silver Shirt leader.

Hook today refused to substantiate that even if the documents were forged, their inclusion in the Congressional Record did not violate the House rules.

He was the last witness before the subcommittee, considering a resolution by Representative Hoffman (R-Mich.) to exclude the material from the record.

Hoffman, speaking in behalf of his resolution, told the committee that even assuming the documents were genuine, Hook's remarks were improper because they reflected on a member—Dies—who was not in the house floor at the time and was confined to his home by illness.

Hook said today he thought the date of the dinner was Jan. 16.

"You discussed ways and means of stopping this resolution (for continuance of the Dies committee) Representative Cox (D-Ga.) asked.

"Yes," Hook replied.

"Did you make this speech for the purpose of stopping this committee?" Cox asked, referring to Hook's remarks at the time he inserted the letters in the record.

"Of course I did," Hook answered.

"Do you think this matter should use forged documents?" Cox asked.

Representative Dempsey (D-N. M.) started to ask, Hook interrupted to retort, "Well, it has not been proved yet that those documents are forged."

"Will you tell this committee that those documents are genuine?" Cox asked.

Hook said that question was for handwriting experts to determine.

Hook declared "the integrity of the house has not been violated. Speaking of the letters, Hook said: Hook's Statements

Speaking of letters, Hook said: "Say they were forged, and I do not say they were, still they do not impugn the motives of the house or a member of congress. As a legal proposition and from a moral standpoint, it is not unlawful for anyone to associate with anyone who is a member of the silver shirts.

"This (Dies) committee was appointed by the house. Certainly no one can say that it is possible for this committee to make a thorough investigation of every organization throughout the United States.

"This committee has been in existence some years. No legislation has been proposed making association with members of any Silver Shirt organization or making membership in a Silver Shirt organization unlawful.

"Therefore there is no impugning of the motives of congress.

"There is no charge here that the member mentioned—Martin Dies—wrote any letters. They're purely letters supposed to have been signed by Pelley."

The meetings are being held in connection with the county's quality milk problem, and Magnus reports that he is receiving "splendid" reports on the quality improvement program.

Nusbaum will discuss technical points concerning the tests. There also will be a general discussion of the quality milk program, running of tests and keeping of records. Outagamie county is the first in the state to adopt the quality milk program.

Governor Rivers Of Georgia Finds Self on Hot Spot

Garner's Suggestion for Delegate Election Is Embarrassing

Washington—(U)—Vice President Garner and Senator George (D-Ga.) have teamed up to put Governor Rivers of Georgia on a hot spot.

Closely coinciding with the naive letter which Senator George wrote the vice president and the equally innocent reply from Garner about selecting Democratic convention delegates from Georgia, a broad-scale publicity campaign was started in the state. It was designed to impress on members of the Georgia Democratic executive committee that there was a popular demand for a presidential preference primary.

The committee has full powers to order one, or to pick the convention delegates itself. And 117 of the 120 committee members were selected by Governor Rivers, who has followed closely the precepts of the New Deal.

Before the heat was turned on in the present publicity campaign, the indications were that Georgia would send an uninstructed delegation to the convention.

The publicity is taking the campaign into the state by pamphlet and speeches. The pamphlets combine the appeal of Senator George and Eugene Talmadge, his top opponent in the 1938 campaign, for a primary.

In that campaign George got 141,742 votes, Talmadge 101,975. Lawrence Camp, who carried the presidential endorsement, got 78,134. George and Talmadge carried 113 counties. Camp carried seven.

The double-barreled endorsement by two men who represent 243,000 votes will be hard for a politically-minded committee to withstand, however strong may be the Rivers control over it.

Favor Change in Court Procedure

Presiding Judge Would Administer Oath to Witnesses

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison—The presiding judge will administer the oath to witnesses in the courtroom instead of the court clerk if the proposal of a special-committee of the Wisconsin Bar association chosen to consider changes in the law of evidence are adopted by the state war group and the state legislature.

That change and several others will be considered by members of the bar at a special mid-winter meeting of the state bar association and law institute in Milwaukee on Feb. 22, it was announced today.

It has been learned, however, that the sub-committee has vetoed another proposal contemplating giving power to the court to appoint expert witnesses in civil actions, on the ground that it would make litigation more expensive, and might deter impetuous plaintiffs from suing on account of extra expense involved.

"We believe it a dangerous step to remove a most important phase of a lawsuit from the hands of the court, jury, and attorneys and to submit it to persons not educated or prepared for the administration of justice or the decision of litigation," said the committee of the suggestion by the Milwaukee junior bar group.

A minority report of the committee, however, suggested that such a proposal would not take from the jury the power of finding the facts testified to by the court-appointed experts. Like all other evidence in the case it may be accepted or rejected by the jury. It was pointed out that for many years insanity hearings have involved the selection of experts by the court, yet the jury frequently disregards their testimony and contradicts it.

The proposal is expected to provoke a lively discussion at the mid-winter meeting of the association of lawyers.

Keefe Takes Action To 'Discipline' Hook

To 'Discipline' Hook

Post-Crescent Washington Bureau

Washington—Congressman Frank B. Keefe, Oshkosh Republican, says that he will not relax his efforts to have the house "discipline" Congressman Frank E. Hook, Michigan democrat.

When, last Thursday, Hook attempted to withdraw from the Congressional Record the "Pelley letters," he had inserted, Keefe objected, thus paving the way for formal house action expunging the letters this week.

David Mayne, who has been described as one of the agents of William Dudley Pelley, Silver Shirt leader, has testified that he manufactured and sold the letters, purporting to show cooperation between Pelley and Martin Dies, which were later published by Hook in argument against continuation of the Dies committee.

"I expect to see to it that no unanimous consent is given by the house to Hook, for authority to expunge the letters from the record, unless it is accompanied by an apology and a confession that they were forged," Keefe asserts.

Screwy News Shows Leap Year Going Into Reverse

Year Going Into Reverse

BY GLADWIN HILL

New York—(U)—Leap year slipped into reverse gear last week.

A Rochester, N. Y., man advertised that he would marry any woman of good character "with financial standing" and a Wildwood, N. J., fisherman advertised that he would marry any girl with money enough to buy him a boat to fish in.

There came a cavalcade of other cockeyed occurrences.

If, for instance, you thought that cold weather was tough on you, what about the ducks in Evansville, Ind., which, observers swore, kept swimming in circles for two weeks to keep their pond from freezing over?

A hen down in Asheville, N. C., stood on some damp ground too long and froze to it. An Asheville woman became so pre-occupied eating that his tail froze into a pan of water.

A Calexico, Calif., man made 30 parachute jumps in 10 hours.

The congregation of a York, S. C., church put out a fire by throwing snowballs on it. The mayor of Charleston, S. C., pulled out one of his teeth with a pair of pliers.

And a Springfield, Mass., woman sat through two straight performances of "gone with the wind."

The fire chief of Weatherford, Okla., demanded a new fire truck on the ground that the old one was always being passed, enroute to fires, by little boys on bicycles.

A Newark, N. J., woman explained the gash on her head was where her husband hit her with a statue of the dove of peace.

Ice Jam Broken In Mississippi

Traffic Begins to Move Cautiously South Of St. Louis

Memphis, Tenn.—(U)—The Mississippi river's worst ice jam this century unloosed its frigid grasp on steamer traffic today and freight-laden boats moved for the first time in 16 days.

Vessels traveled cautiously, warily dodging flocks whose white caps bobbed in the swift current. A ribbon of jagged ice, deposited as the broken jam moved southward yesterday, lined both shores from St. Louis, Mo., to Friar Point, Miss.

Crushed wharves and punctured boats were left by the ice movement.

The channel was free of gorges south of Memphis, but boat captains still waited at Memphis for ice to move free of the channel at Gayoso bend near Caruthersville, Mo., Drivers' Landing, Ark., and Sugar Loaf, Ark. When these points open up, steamers can travel as far north as St. Louis.

The steel-hulled Illinois, its 10 barges safely tied together, awaited above Gayoso bend. The barge's $1,000,000 cargo of farm implements and steel products was tossed around for five miles Friday night when the Gayoso gorge first broke. The boat's crew of 33 members had been ice-bound 15 days.

The steamer Hoover waited below Gayoso bend to aid the Illinois when the channel clears. Farther south, the steamer Indiana waited with a $2,500,000 cargo billed for Cincinnati.

Prominent Catholic Layman Gave Up Baseball For Other Work

Louisville, Ky.—(U)—Col. Patrick H. Callahan, who as a youth took Billy Sunday's advice and quit professional baseball as a career and later won international and national honors through myriad activities, is dead.

The 73-year-old varnish manufacturing company head and one of the nation's outstanding Catholic laymen, succumbed last night to a heart ailment.

For more than 30 years Callahan had been active in advocating religious tolerance, prohibition and profit-sharing by employees. Through a private news letter he originated to discuss leading questions of the day, he became a friend of many religious, business and political leaders.

In 1922 Colonel Callahan became the first American appointee of the late Pope Pius XI as a Knight of the Order of St. Gregory the Great.

Eleven years later the University of Illinois awarded him the Newman medal, citing his work in stabilization of industry.

While a member of the Chicago White Sox before the turn of the century, Callahan once recalled, a team-mate, Billy Sunday, persuaded him to seek a career in other fields. Sunday later became a famous evangelist.

Colonel Callahan was born and educated in Cleveland, Ohio.

Survivors include the widow, two sons and a daughter.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday at his home.

Tenure Ballot Termed 'Unfair'

Claim Voters Not Affected by Law Will Take Part in Referendum

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison—The state-wide referendum on the teachers' tenure law of 1937 will be applied in the April elections under a "very unfair procedure," the welfare committee of the Wisconsin Education association asserted here today.

The committee, continuing its discussion of the advisory vote on repeal for which the 1939 legislature arranged after long and bitter discussion over the statute, pointed out that only a small part of the state is still affected by the law, although all voters in the state will be permitted to express themselves on it.

"Teachers should know that previous referenda have all been on subjects of interest to the entire state. In this referendum a large part of the state's voting population will express opinion upon a question which in no way concerns them."

"The city of Milwaukee and the State Teachers' colleges have their own tenure laws. The one-room rural schools (and there are over 6,000 of them in Wisconsin) were removed from the effect of the law at the last session of the legislature.

"Yet the voters of all these units, which are in no way affected by the law, will have an opportunity to express themselves upon the repeal of the law. We believe this to be a very unfair procedure. This was pointed out to the last legislature but the referendum was ordered in spite of its apparent unfairness," the statement said.

The teacher group declared that if all teachers busy themselves in informing the public of the "inherent fairness and the basic values of the law the referendum will be favorable," and their tenure status, guaranteeing them against dismissal from their jobs without cause, will be retained.

Though Details are Guarded, Allies Derive Satisfaction From Parley of Balkan Leaders

From Parley of Balkan Leaders

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE

New York—(U)—The Balkan entente—Rumania, Yugoslavia, Greece and Turkey—which carries the key to the back-door of the European war, last night wound up at Belgrade a 3-day conference which on the whole must give the Anglo-French brotherhood considerable satisfaction.

True, the secretive representatives of this powerful quartet departed under shelter of a smoke-screen which concealed most of the things we would like to know. Instead of revealing private discussions which (we believe) might have indicated the trend of the war, the conferees were rigidly neutral and most cautious in their public statements.

Still the atmosphere on the whole would seem to me to have been rather favorable to the allies. This takes into account the understanding that unhappy Rumania, for whose oil and other resources the belligerents are bidding and threatening, will continue to maintain an open-door policy towards Germany at this juncture.

Armed Neutrality

The substance of the announcement made at the conclusion of the conference was that the members of the entente intend to stick to a policy of armed neutrality which will insure their independence and territorial integrity. They mean to safeguard their neutrality by developing commercial and economic cooperation which will render them less dependent upon either of the belligerents.

Now that type of neutrality happens to suit the purposes of the allies better than it does Herr Hitler, although England and France undoubtedly could figure out a scheme which they would like more.

The point is that Hitler has been placing great dependence on the

Johns Asserts Trade Treaties Harmful to U. S.

Agriculture in U. S.

Post-Crescent Washington Bureau

Washington—Agriculture suffers today, Congressman Joshua I. Johns, Algonia Republican, believes, not from a lack of appropriations but from the "harmful effects" of the reciprocal trade treaties.

"Agriculture has been crucified to help industry," he says. "Secretary of State Hull defends the trade treaties on the basis that we need foreign trade," Johns asserts, "but if you examine the exports, you will find that most of these goods are of industry and not of agriculture."

"We have not found a solution to the farm problem," he continues.

"We exported from the United States for the first 11 months of 1939, 3,143 head of cattle, and there was imported into this country during this period 724,815; we exported during these same eleven months 1,356,592 pounds of cheese and imported 55,592,510 pounds. During the first eleven months of 1939, too, we exported 435,774 pounds of hides and skins, raw and we imported 31,360,143 pounds."

"There is no use to hand out money to the farmers in this country to try to raise the price of what they are able to sell, or to try to furnish enough money to dispose of their surplus, unless they have protection of some kind."

During the house debate on agricultural appropriations, which has just concluded, Johns told the house, "my idea of parity payments to agriculture is that they are all wrong. It is just like pouring water into a hole in the ground, so long as we have treaties with other nations permitting them to ship their cheap agriculture products into this country."

Favor Mussolini Plan

There is yet another factor which would seem at this moment to be in favor of the Allies. It is understood that the entente conference looked graciously on Signor Mussolini's intervention in the affairs of the Balkans with the idea of creating a neutral defensive unit and preventing any invasion by either Russia or Germany.

Yugoslavia, which apart from Turkey is the key state of the Balkans strategically, apparently has decided to cooperate with Italy at least to some degree. Yugoslavia also is headed towards closer cooperation with Hungary and with Bulgaria, the latter being the only Balkan state not in the entente.

In other words, it would seem that Il Duce is getting ahead with his plan. There are those who think he is friendly at heart towards the Anglo-French Allies, and there are those who think he may not be. Whatever may be his feeling, however, it is all to the good from the Allied standpoint to have him acting as sentry at the entrance to the Balkan Peninsula.

Thus, on the whole, it would seem that the Allies did fairly well for themselves out of the entente conference.

Draft Movement For Third Term Begun—Lawrence

Activities Started in Virginia, Georgia, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Illinois

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington — The movement to "draft" President Roosevelt for a third term at the Democratic National convention is now under way in at least five states, involving about 228 delegates — nearly half the number requisite to a presidential nomination.

These states are Virginia, Georgia, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Illinois.

Two political machines are taking care of the selection of delegates in Illinois and Pennsylvania whereas in Ohio, Georgia and Virginia there will be a major controversy.

In Virginia and Georgia, the two governors are tied into the third term schemes. In Ohio, Senator Donahy's name is mingled with the plan which is to obtain an "unimpaired" delegation controlled by third termers. In this way the movement proceeds without the president's apparent consent.

The strategy has brought free-works in both Virginia and Georgia. Last week, the plan was exposed in the United States News, a weekly magazine of which this correspondent is the editor. Governor Price of Virginia now has issued a formal denial, stating that the article was "false and preposterous." This week therefore, the magazine publishes the text of the correspondence which shows that on Dec. 18th, Joseph Leib, founder of Roosevelt-for-President clubs in the first prevention campaign, wrote a letter to the Virginia governor asking him if it was true that he wanted the Virginia delegation to the next national convention to exclude Senators Byrd and Glass and to have it elected for a third term for Mr. Roosevelt.

Governor Price did not answer the questions, but instead said he was sending an emissary—Milton A. Hutcheson, of Richmond, who is described as "one of my best political and personal friends"—to Mr. Leib in Washington. On Jan. 1, 1939 Mr. Leib wrote to Senator Glass, describing the results of an agreement which he said had been reached between Thomas Corcoran and Mr. Hutcheson in which it was decided that the Virginia delegation was to be instructed for a third term for Mr. Roosevelt and if this was impossible it was to be made up of delegates "unimpaired," but friendly to the third term and that Senators Glass and Byrd of Virginia were to be excluded from a vote in the delegation.

The Virginia governor now says he wants the two seats to be members of the delegation, but he has not yet answered whether he wants a third term instruction and why he failed to answer the question directed to him on Dec. 12 except by sending an emissary to a man described by V. A. Lewis as an utter stranger to the governor.

However that may be, Virginia will decide for itself the third term issue and so maybe will Georgia where Governor Rivers, a White House favorite, has been hesitating to allow the state convention to hold a presidential preference primary and where also the administration's influence is being exerted to exclude Senator George through a delegation hand-picked by the governor. In order to break this deadlock, Vice President Garner has now written to the governor, asking that a primary be held so that the voters of the state can ex-

Rebekah Lodge at Shiokton Installs Officers at Meeting

Shiokton—Members of the Rebekah lodge conducted their first meeting of the month at the Odd Fellows hall Thursday evening. Installation of the newly elected and appointed officers took place. Esma Laird, deputy president, was installing officer. She was assisted by Susie Andrews as deputy secretary, Clara Fisher as deputy warden, Jessie Laird as deputy chaplain, and Celia Oak as deputy marshal.

After the installation a lunch was served by the following hostesses: Beulah Sawyer, chairman; Elita Burdick, Fern Schultz, Bernice White and Dorothy Grehn.

The meeting of the Lutheran Ladies Aid conducted at the church parlors Thursday afternoon was well attended. The committee in charge included Mrs. Andy Peterson, Mrs. Herman Hoewisch and Mrs. Andrew Herman.

Emil Wolfmeyer of Appleton has sold his residence in the village to John Vander Weilen, also of Appleton. The Charles Fellner family, which is occupying the residence, will vacate some time this spring.

Myron Ames, who recently purchased the Will Ross residence in the village, moved into it this week. Mr. Ames, who was employed at the Northern Farm, has been succeeded by Marion Greeley of the town of Maure. The latter also moved this week.

Word has just been received from an AP correspondent in Honduras that preparations are being made by the Honduras government to issue soon a series of four air mails to commemorate the creation of the Pan-American Union at Washington a half-century ago.

These stamps will be in miniature sheets of four. Each stamp will show a map of the United States and Latin-America with the Honduran flag on the left and the American flag on the right.

The only variation on the stamps is in portraits that appear in ovals in the upper right-hand corners. The 14-cent stamp will picture Francisco Morazan, the Honduran apostle of Central American union; the 16c George Washington; the 30c Jose Cecille de Valle, Honduran hero; and the 40c, Simon Bolivar, the George Washington of Latin-America.

"Purge" Tactics

The repetition of "purge" tactics started in the campaign of 1938 against Senator George of Georgia and of the New Deal and anti-New Deal cleavages in Virginia has brought the name of Tommy Corcoran to the front as the leader of the "draft Roosevelt" movement.

Mr. Corcoran has never been active in politics before but he probably learned a great deal about it in the 1938 purge campaign and is in a position now to exercise his talents with respect to a national convention. Someone, of course, took up in the administration has to handle the practical details of a "draft movement" and since Tommy Corcoran's position of influence has always been surrounded with a aura of power behind the throne, he is a natural for the occasion.

This does not mean that the president has designated him or encouraged him. The chances are 100 to 1 that the president has never mentioned his own wishes either to Tommy Corcoran or anybody else. He has on the other hand, read the newspapers and he knows that members of his cabinet are out making speeches favoring a third term having failed to squelch such talk, it is natural for the astute Mr. Corcoran to feel he is privileged to step up delegates, especially since the man who would ordinarily do this, the Postmaster General Farley, is known to be against a third term and unless the president makes known his wishes before it is likely to come out in the open on the issue.

Meanwhile the Guffy-Lawrence machine in Pennsylvania and the Kelly-Nash machine in Illinois, which for local reasons of their own wish to tack themselves on to a draft movement, will corral the delegates for a third term nomination or for anybody the president may some day indicate is his favorite. But the "draft movement" is in actual operation now as delegates or would be delegates favoring other candidates have already discovered to their sorrow.

The drunken fish appear on the 10-cent deep red; the 2-cent yellow-brown depicts a kite (the bird). According to legend a wondrous, golden kite once helped Emperor Jimmu win a battle by bewildering the enemy.

On the stamp with the fish is a sacred jar which—again according to legend—was made by Emperor Jimmu of clay from Mount Kagu and was used by him in making sacrifices to the gods.

After the ceremony of sacrifice the emperor filled the jar with a malt extract and placed the liquor-filled jar in the Nyu river.

"If the fishes become drunk," said the emperor, "and float down the river like leaves, then I shall assuredly succeed in establishing this land."

Japanese historians report the result was as he hoped. At the left, the vertical writing reads "2600th Anniversary of Founding The ver-

State Old Age Pension Rolls Show Sharp Boost Last Year

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — There were 6,144 more aged persons on the old age pension rolls in Wisconsin at the end of 1939 than a year ago, the state public welfare department has reported, an increase even greater than the rise anticipated when the current state budget was prepared.

Almost 50,000 aged in Wisconsin are now getting regular monthly checks from their county pension departments. In December the total cost for the 49,652 persons on the old-age pension rolls was $1,028,877, which represented an average payment of $21.53 per recipient. Number of pensioners, it was noted, has risen more than 13 per cent in the last year, while the total aid payments, due to slight increases in the grants, has risen more than 16 per cent over a year ago.

Joined with old age pensions in the social security program supported by state, local and federal governments, are the children's aids and blind pensions, which last month required payment of an additional $500,000 from the three public treasuries.

Although the urban localities generally showed higher average pensions than the rural communities, where the cost of living is lower, the upper Fox river valley counties have fallen below the state average, the current pension report issued by the state welfare department shows.

Here are figures showing the number of beneficiaries and the average payments in the Fox river valley counties and others in the northeastern Wisconsin section:

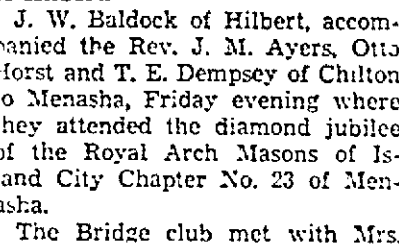

| County     | Number | Average |
|------------|--------|---------|
| Brown      | 621    | $18.76 |
| Outagamie  | 333    | 20.77   |
| Manitowish | 504    | 20.81   |

HOW YOU CAN GET A $100 LOAN

IF YOU CAN PAY BACK $6.43 A MONTH

Loans without endorsers or guarantors—No credit questions asked of friends or relatives—Prompt, private service.

You can get cash simply and promptly at Household Finance, if you can repay your loan in monthly installments. You may repay in very small installments, if you prefer. Or you may make larger payments in order to pay up sooner. From the table below you choose the payment schedule which fits your own needs and your own income.

Pick your own payment schedule

Suppose you need $100 and can conveniently repay $9.77 a month. The table shows that your installments will repay a $100 loan from Household Finance in full in twelve months. Or, if you wish smaller payments, as little as $6.43 a month for twenty months will also repay a $100 loan.

Find the amount of cash you need in the first column of the loan table. Then read across, picking out the monthly payment that you can conveniently make out of your regular monthly income.

Sooner you repay your loan the less it costs

Note, in the last column of the table, that you may make very small payments if you prefer. See also that the sooner you repay, the less your loan costs. Four installments of $26.60 each, for instance, will repay a $100 loan in full. The cost in this case is only $6.40. (All payments shown in the table include the charges. You pay nothing more.)

Plywood Cagers Defeat Kaukauna, Edison Quintets

High Life Squad of New London Loses to Menasha Team

New London—Cagers of Plywood Local 2890 defeated the Kaukauna Merchants and their local rivals, Edison 1642, in two close and hard fought basketball games at Washington High school gym Sunday afternoon. The Miller High Lites lost to a Menasha team 29 to 19 in a triple-game program.

The Kaukauna Merchants were the Plywood's second game of the afternoon and in a rough and tumble affair, the locals emerged the victors 33 to 28. They trailed 10 to 6 at the end of the first quarter, led by two points at the half, 17 to 15, and by only one point at the end of the third period, 23 to 22. Boot, center, led the visitors with three goals and three charity shots for 9 points. Marilyn Munch, the baseball pitcher, led the home team with three goals and one gift shot.

Ben Bessette sparked the Plywood in a preliminary see-saw battle with the Edison Local 1642. Paced by Doug Hoier, last year's high school star, the Edison led 7 to 5 at the end of the first quarter, trailed 14 to 13 at intermission, led 20 to 19 at the three-quarter mark, and dropped the final decision, 25 to 24.

The Plywood will play the Marion city team at Labor hall here at 8 o'clock Wednesday night. They trimmed the same team at Marion recently, 49 to 27.

Majority of those Informed on the Subject Are in Favor of Hull's Reciprocal Treaties

BY DR. GEORGE GALLUP
Director, American Institute of Public Opinion

Princeton, N. J.—Members of congress are preparing for what may be one of the bitterest disputes of the session—and of the presidential campaign—whether the power given Secretary Hull to negotiate reciprocal trade agreements should be renewed.

There will be thunder aplenty over the issue before next November, but the real value of the trade treaties as a campaign issue may be far less than either the Republicans or Democrats now suppose. Actually, as a new survey by the American Institute of Public Opinion shows, there are two good reasons why the tariff question may play a minor part in the switching of votes between the two great parties:

First, the survey shows that the whole matter of trade agreements—particularly in its present form—is beyond the immediate interest and understanding of the average American.

Second, among those who have definite views on the question, even a majority of Republicans are in favor of them.

To understand just what is happening, it is important to turn the attention from Capitol Hill to the American voting public. Just where does the voter stand out on Mr. Hull's treaties, 22 of which have thus far been signed with various countries in Europe, South America and the Near East?

To obtain a picture of the man-in-the street is thinking, the American Institute of Public Opinion has conducted a country-wide survey, reaching a carefully selected miniature electorate so chosen as to reflect with a high degree of accuracy the views of the entire voting population. Voters in the survey were asked three simple questions:

"What is your personal opinion about Secretary Hull's reciprocal trade treaties?"

"Do you think Congress should give Secretary Hull the power to make more such treaties?"

"What is your understanding of the term, 'reciprocal trade treaties'?"

Few Understand Treaties

The results offer political strategists three salient facts to ponder over:

1. Among all those interviewed in the Institute survey, one person in ten, on the average, indicated by his reply that he understood the principles on which reciprocal trade agreements rest. In other words, when either the Republicans or the Democrats attempt to make a popular issue out of Mr. Hull's agreements they are, in reality, addressing only about 6 million of the nation's 60 million eligible voters.

2. With a large majority of those who are informed on the subject, Mr. Hull's treaties are popular at this time. In answer to the question, "What is your personal opinion about Secretary Hull's reciprocal trade treaties?" 71 per cent of those with opinions gave answers which could only be construed as favorable, while 29 per cent disapproved. In answer to the question, "Do you think Congress should give Secretary Hull the power to make more such treaties?" 57 per cent with an understanding of the issue said "Yes, Hull's power should be re-

HIS POWERS WILL BE DEBATED

One of the bitterest debates of the current session of congress may center about the renewal or non-renewal of Secretary of State Cordell Hull's powers to negotiate reciprocal trade agreements with other nations. Chief beneficiaries of the trade agreements thus far, according to administration witnesses, have been American auto manufacturers and producers of other U. S. manufactured articles. When Secretary Hull, above, was negotiating for a treaty with Argentina recently, some cattle-raisers complained at the expected lowering of duties an Argentine cattle.

Hull Is Ranked as Doing the 'Best Job' in Roosevelt Cabinet

By Institute of Public Opinion
Princeton, N. J.—A year and a half ago, in an earlier Institute survey, Secretary of State Cordell Hull, whose reciprocal trade agreements will come up for debate in Congress shortly, was ranked as doing the "best job" of any member of the Roosevelt Cabinet at that time.

Voters in the survey were asked: "Do you think the following Cabinet members have done a good job or a poor job in office?" Since many voters were not familiar with the work of all Cabinet officers, three possibilities were offered—"good job," "poor job" and "undecided."

The vote on the 68-year-old Tennessean, who has devoted himself for seven years to the problem of reciprocal trade treaties, was as follows:

|              | Good Job | Poor Job | Undecided |
|--------------|----------|----------|-----------|
| Cordell Hull | 53%      | 8%       | 39%       |

The work of the Secretary of State proved nearly as popular with Republicans as with Democrats.

newed." 43 per cent said "No, it should not be renewed."

3. The survey found no substantial difference in the attitudes of Republicans and Democrats on the question.

Even among those without well-defined ideas about the treaties, a majority expressing themselves in a favorable attitude.

Friends of the trade treaties offer the following arguments, in order, their comments show: (1) that the treaties have been an assistance

New London Ski Riders Jump in Two Tourneys

New London — Riders of the New London Ski club competed in two tournaments Sunday. Ingvar Arneson, Tom Lund and Lawrence Kaja went to St. Paul, Minn., while five others, Tim Kellogg, Frank Carlson, Les Jacobson, Russell Jacobson and Lavern Trindad rode in the tournament at Sturgeon Bay. Jack Sullivan was kept out of competition by a knee injury.

reported replies to the question, "Do you approve of Secretary Hull's policy in seeking a reciprocal trade agreement with Great Britain?" Although here again the bulk of the voters were classified as without opinions, the majority of those with definite views were more than 4 to 1 in favor of Hull's attempt. In a survey of voters chosen from Who's Who in America, conducted shortly before, another 4-to-1 majority was registered for a reciprocal treaty with Britain.

It may well happen, of course, that the popularity of any particular treaty will collapse due to circumstances which occur later, or due to the terms of the treaty itself. It may happen that the Republican opponents of the trade treaties will be able to prove their charges against the treaties in specific cases, and thus develop a clear and simple argument for campaign purposes.

Some Republicans are already emphasizing what they believe to be the adverse results of the treaties in particular communities — among the dairy farmers of the upper Mississippi valley, the shoe manufacturers of New England and the lumbermen of the Pacific Coast, for example.

But nothing can be clearer at the present time than that the average American has not yet consciously felt the effect of Mr. Hull's treaties in his own experience, and is not aroused to do battle either for or against their continuance.

WISCONSIN'S UNEMPLOYMENT COMPENSATION LAW

Wisconsin's excellent Unemployment Compensation act, one of the finest and most businesslike of the many pieces of legislation on this subject in the nation, is again threatened by proposed "improvements" being brewed by the bright young men of the New Deal. The warning of the pending change comes from Washington in the statement by Rep. Stephen Bolles that he will fight the proposed national legislation which would "confiscate the reserves built up by Wisconsin manufacturers."

The reserve plan of the Wisconsin legislation is of course the heart and soul of the law which ought to be accepted as a model for the nation, but the reserve idea has been constantly under fire by the New Dealers. The Wisconsin Unemployment Compensation law embodies the idea of rewarding employers who have little or no unemployment. Thus with great wisdom the Wisconsin legislators wrote into the law a provision that the employer who had built up a reserve amounting to seven and one-half per cent of his annual payroll might have his tax reduced from three per cent to one per cent and eventually be exempt of all taxes if the reserve reaches 10 per cent of the payroll. The great advantage of this provision to the employee is shown by the fact that 3,000 Wisconsin employers have now built their reserves and are paying the one per cent tax. It means that for thousands of employees in those plants there is practically no unemployment problem.

It is no accident that there are 3,000 Wisconsin plants with this fine record. Many of these employers brought that condition about by careful planning, by carrying employees over slack periods, by literally making jobs. It is to be expected that more and more employers will find it to their advantage to stabilize employment and qualify under the lower tax rate as time goes on for the law has been in effect for only a few years. It is more certainly to be expected that if the reserves are "confiscated" for the benefit of the spenders at Washington and the rewards to employers abolished, that the plants will backslide and men who have known security in their jobs will again be threatened with idleness or part-time work. In considering this it would be a mistake to lay the responsibility on the flinty heart of the employer for what he must pay in taxes he cannot pay in wages. The Wisconsin idea is to pay wages rather than relief, and it is the right idea.

But the New Dealers cannot endure the presence of a sound piece of legislation that puts all of the visionary ideas of the great brains of Washington to shame. Is it forever to be the philosophy of Washington to do nothing to provide jobs in industry, do nothing to keep men working, but to take all in taxes and dole it out as relief, unemployment compensation, farm aid and what not just so as many as possible are receiving government aid. Is it not another picture of the politician posing as a friend of labor while he turns workers out of their jobs with one hand so that he may offer them unemployment compensation checks with the other hand?

TOO MUCH AUTHORITY

Whatever the house committee investigation of the National Labor Relations Board may have shown, and regardless of how much of the testimony heard qualifies as admissible evidence, the hearing has revealed the board's almost unanimous unpopularity.

Popularity may not always be proof of merit, especially for an official body engaged in unpleasant disputes, but in this case the lack of popularity has developed into lack of confidence. Complaints against the board have come from all sides—from business and industrial concerns and from labor unions, from individual employers and individual employees. Their testimony has shown not only a lack of confidence but an actual distrust of the board's motive.

The usefulness of the board has been diminished seriously if not virtually destroyed by the widespread impression that it has not acted impartially in the controversies it has been called upon to decide. In defense of the board, it must be admitted that the statement of its chairman, J. Warren Madden, that the current war between the CIO and the AFL has greatly increased its difficulties, carries weight. That, however, does not explain all of the instances in which the board is accused of favoritism, nor the long delays occurring in the settlement of a considerable number of cases.

One reason for the board's troubles is the extraordinary authority vested in it. Even if its motives were of the purest it would still encounter complications in trying to act as judge, prosecutor and jury. The regular courts do not have that much concentrated power. In each there is a prosecutor who presents one side of the case, a defense attorney who presents the other, a judge who among other things keeps the testimony within the bounds of legitimate evidence, and a jury which deliberates on the evidence. The board, by contrast, is supreme unto itself.

DAMS FOR THE FLOOD

Senator Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, whose early and persistent candidacy for the Republican presidential nomination revealed him to be ambitious, has now disclosed another quality—optimism. Senator Bridges proposes that the forthcoming Republican national convention be speeded up by limiting the time of each nominating speech and the time and number of seconding speeches.

Of course, the New Hampshire senator also suggests that each candidate for president and vice president be allowed to make a speech, but at least his first two proposals are excellent objectives. Anyone who put them into operation would stand a good chance of being nominated, by the radio public anyway, by acclamation.

Verbosity reaches high tide during the national presidential conventions. The volume of words that flows into the microphone and out of the loud speaker while the conventions are in session reaches flood proportions. Listeners trying to find out what is going on have to suffer through a tidal wave of oratory, much of it meaningless, or else give up in their suffering and shut their radios off.

Virtually all nominating speeches are too long. Seconding speeches, with rare exceptions, are an even greater imposition on the patience of the public. Few of either ever helped to clarify the issues at stake or give a plain statement of the candidate's qualifications. On the contrary, the great majority only muddle matters, consume time and bore listeners.

But a hint as to the possibility of success for Senator Bridges' suggestions comes from James A. Farley, who, in writing of his experiences at the 1932 convention, said: "A thoroughgoing democratic orator... his throat cleared and ready... his manuscript in hand... it's too much to expect him to give way. Our appeal (for shorter speeches) was in vain."

Republicans in convention have shown the same characteristics. Good wishes to Senator Bridges but he is undertaking the impossible.

THE GOLDEN WORM

Centuries ago a Chinese princess carried concealed in her head-dress, at the risk of death if caught, the silk worm and the seed of the mulberry tree to India. From the Ganges valley where the first silk industry in India was started, the knowledge of silk spread and soon penetrated Korea and Japan.

That was the beginning of a monopoly which today complicates world economics and diplomacy. Japan's virtual stronghold on the production of raw silk, made possible by its low labor costs, is an ever-present restraint upon all nations as they deal in business or politics with the Nipponese.

Raw silk, for instance, is important to the United States because it supports a $500,000,000 industry in this country which gives employment to at least 500,000 people. Even last year in the face of an attempted boycott, the United States bought 50,000,000 pounds of raw silk. American women won't wear cotton stockings. Of course, in time such substitutes as rayon and nylon may free this country from dependence on raw silk for such things as stockings, surgical supplies, parachutes, underwear and fishing lines, but that time has not come yet.

The silk worm, now worth millions of dollars to Japan is not the only economic consideration which our statesmen ponder, in addition to the question of peace in the Pacific, as they debate the matter of embargoes against Japanese goods. Next to Britain and Canada, Japan is our best customer. Last year the Nipponese bought $210,000,000 worth of goods from us compared to the $159,000,000 worth we bought from them. Furthermore, Americans have about $426,000,000 invested in Japan.

The delicacy of the situation, speaking both economically—in which a little worm is a mighty factor—and politically suggests caution in our dealings with Japan. An amicable settlement of differences would be most beneficial, both ways.

Opinions of Others

IN PLAIN ENGLISH
We have it on good authority that the wages and hours division of the United States Labor Department recently published an advertisement in one of America's Chinese business newspapers. Designed to instruct Chinese businessmen in this country, the advertisement reads as follows in translation: "Observe the wage and hour law. Don't be a damn fool and try to fool the wage and hour inspectors. There are enough American chasers trying to do this. They don't need any Chinese assistance."—The Pathfinder.

The DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY GO ROUND

WASHINGTON Merry go round — Mon., Feb. 5

BY DREW PEARSON AND ROBERT S. ALLEN

Washington—You can rest easy about any new taxes this year. Definitely there won't be any. And that goes too for any boost in the $45,000,000,000 national debt limit so wistfully "suggested" by Secretary Morgenthau.

Democratic and Republican leaders have had a private meeting of minds on both propositions and agreed among themselves to do nothing about either. With a hot national election in the offing, the boys have no stomach for soaking the taxpayer either directly or indirectly and they intend to play it safe by doing nothing.

Their plan is to prune appropriations sufficiently to keep just within the $45,000,000,000 debt limit and then call it a day. What happens next year they are going to leave for the new congress and administration to worry about. They are out to save their own scalps in 1940.

SENATOR MICKEY
During his recent visit to the nation's capital in honor of the president's birthday, youthful screen star Mickey Rooney took a side trip to Baltimore, traveling under police escort. With him went Miss Bertha Joseph, vivacious secretary of Senator George Radcliffe of Maryland.

In the course of their conversation Miss Joseph remarked: "Mickey, why don't you run for the senate?" Mickey said nothing, appeared to be thinking the matter over.

Finally he said: "Uh-huh, maybe you got something there. I have been thinking about that carefully and maybe I will. But first I had better get a secretary, hadn't I? How about you?"

And Miss Joseph, comparing the 19-year-old boy to her 62-year-old mentor, said she was interested.

"MR. BROWDER GOES TO WASHINGTON"

Few people outside New York City realize that Earl Browder is not in jail, but is actually running for congress. Voters of New York's sixteenth district will choose tomorrow (Feb. 6) among three candidates to send to Washington—Michael Edelstein, Louis Lefkowitz, and Earl Browder.

The contest is over the seat made vacant by the death of Congressman Sirovich.

Browder is under sentence of four years and $2,000 for passport forgery, but he is out on bail pending appeal. Meantime, he is making it clear that he would much prefer a seat in the House to a cell in prison.

Chances are that Democrat Edelstein will win over both Republican Lefkowitz and Communist Browder, but if Browder should be elected, he would have still another hurdle to jump—the consent of the house of representatives itself to let him sit. It is doubtful if members would seat a Communist if they had the valid excuse that he was under criminal sentence.

But New York Communists are pushing him nevertheless, using as their rallying cry, "Mr. Browder goes to Washington."

NO LUCK

General Julius F. Howell, 94-year-old commander of the United Confederate Veterans, tried his hand at drawing the president out on the third-term issue, but with no better luck than the rest.

Accompanied by Representative John W. Flannagan of Virginia, the Dixie hero visited the president at the White House. After telling Roosevelt he had voted for him twice, Howell added, "And nothing would make me happier than to make it three in a row this year."

The president laughed jovially and commended the general on his party loyalty. But he said nothing about running again. Howell tried another tack.

"You've got to run again, Mr. President," he insisted. "No other Democrat but you can win. The people won't take No for an answer."

But Roosevelt wasn't talking. He beamed but ducked the question by deftly changing the subject.

"You know, general," he said, "Joe Robinson (late senate floor leader) used to tell me a lot about you. I believe he was a student of yours at the University of Arkansas. Sometime I would like to sit down and have a long chat with you about the south. I have family connections in the south. Teddy Roosevelt's mother was a descendant of a Georgia patriot."

Note—T. R.'s mother, Martha Bulloch, was a granddaughter of Archibald Bulloch, first president of the Provincial Congress of Georgia and a pioneer in the struggle to free the colonies from British rule.

AGRICULTURAL HANGOVER

Henry Wallace was reading a statement in his press conference warning the country against expecting the war to be a boon to agriculture. He paused, looked at his audience of newsmen, and threw in a figure of speech which he said "would be understood by many reporters but not by many farmers."

"In this war, agriculture is likely to have a hangover without the spree beforehand."

MERRY-GO-ROUND

Both the AFL and CIO have privately warned Dr. John Steelman, head of the United States Labor Conciliation Service, that they will determinedly fight the arbitration bill he is reported to be working on—IF it has any compulsory features in it. One of the first orders issued by Attorney General Bob Jackson was that the FBI stop using private industrial detectives to uncover sabotage. Jackson believes that government agents should only be used on government work. The two rival house floor leaders, Democratic Sam Rayburn and Republican Joe Martin, are so popular personally with their colleagues that when they rise to make one of their frequent speeches Democrats and Republicans join in giving them a big hand. Rated by Democratic leaders as one of the most effective party activities in the Middle West is the Alameda Forum in Chicago, named after Illinois' famed reform Governor of the early '90s. Prominent in it is Gael Sullivan, handsome young assistant to Mayor Edward Kelly, whom politics have marked down as a comer in the public arena.

A Verse for Today

By Anne Campbell

A LITTLE AT A TIME

God broke Time into seven shining bits, Each one a bright new day. We could not face an avalanche of Time, Or walk too long a way.

We break our sorrows into little parts, And bear them one by one. We cannot carry more upon our hearts Than comes from sun to sun.

God knew our inability to cope With Time's immensity. So he made night and spangled it with stars Of hope for you and me.

he hadn't been doing this he might have been piling up toothpicks or sending out chain letters.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A Bystander In Washington

BY PRESTON GROVER

Washington—Not in a long time has congress handled such a hot potato as this business of voting loans to

Grover proposed for granting relief money to Poland.

"Ten million Poles," says Fish, "literally are starving to death."

"Such relief," says Fish, who last year enjoyed the hospitality of German Foreign Minister Ribbentrop, would not be unneutral."

"Who besides you?" growls Representative Tinkham of Massachusetts, through a bristle of beard, "says it is not unneutral?"

"How are we going to keep these relief supplies from falling into the hands of the Germans?" asks Representative Johnson of Texas.

Representative Sol Bloom, chairman of the committee, reads a letter from Secretary of State Hull which he interprets to mean that the Red Cross has reported no need of such legislative aid.

Cutting Relief Here

There is constant harping on the dangers involved in the business of sending money into war territory, even for relief purposes. Momentarily the committee pauses while a blondish-haired student solemnly reads a report on his experiences during the bombardment of Warsaw. The people, he says, were reduced to eating horses, pigeons and dogs. In the basement of the American embassy they didn't have even that, he says, just boiled rice.

"Vote at least $10,000,000," pleads Dr. B. L. Smykowski of Bridgeport, Conn., district chief of a Polish-American relief organization.

Back in every members' mind is the question of how such a vote will rest among his constituents while he is cutting off farm relief and WPA relief from his own people during the current economy drive. They are all sympathetic as blazes, but home problems, plus doubt about this business of sending money into war areas, makes them hedge.

In the Senate is even more emphatic evidence of a mining, uncertain step about loans to Finland. President Roosevelt recommends congressional authority for non-military loans to Finland. Already $10,000,000 has been advanced by the Export-Import bank, but the President wants congress to say whether any more will go.

The Finns are not especially pleased with the strings attached to the loan. They can't buy munitions, which they need most.

Want: A Foolproof Bill

Senator Brown of Michigan introduces a bill asking with no strings attached. He has a large population of Finns in his state. The senate leaders want a bill that will fulfill the President's wishes, give something to the Finns, or seem to give it, and yet not run risks of getting mixed up in foreign policy debate.

So the Brown bill is ferried over to the administration-controlled banking- and currency committee. From there comes a new bill that would permit the Export-Import bank to lead up to $30,000,000 to foreign governments under terms which the state department considers no violation of international law. Finland is not mentioned so the face of it no foreign policy is involved. It is just a nice-clean duck.

But by previous agreement the bill has to go to foreign relations committee, which is not administration-controlled, although most members are Democrats.

Informed opinion has it that by the time the foreign relations committee finishes debating it the senate will have no stomach at all for the bill. Chairman Pittman of the foreign relations committee continues to hold a measure of optimism—about a two-ounce measure.

Just a Step Behind the News

By Dave Boone

Hitler's air war against English shipping has reached a point where something besides speeches in parliament seems necessary. John Bull don't seem to be betting a man past first base. He ought to cut out bunting and start hitting pretty soon.

Next to British shipping, the NLRB seems to be suffering most from direct hits. Bill Green's executive council brands it as "totally unfit" and says its record of "bias, stupidity and incompetence" is amazing. It demands that it be scuttled and a new board named with brand new rules.

But it opposes any new rules fattered by business or the CIO, thus showing no small amount of bias on its own hook.

One day Bill Green's boys denounce the government for not cooperating with business and says what is needed is a spirit of cooperation and confidence. And the next day it declares business can't even be trusted enough to have a single word of advice or suggestion accepted. It's too deep for simple minds to follow, I guess.

I see the Dutch Army is holding maneuvers on skates. It sure would be something new to hear of a fellow being exempted from war service on the ground he was such a poor skater he might get hurt.

Production of automobiles in 1930 in the United States represented a market value of $5,000,000. Today the industry can produce that volume in 15 hours.

Under the Capitol Dome

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison—It became clear long ago that the key-note of the Heil administration is the struggle with the financial problem.

During the last few months a thirteenth spokesman for the regime has reiterated frequently that the problem has been licked, that there will not be a special legislative session, that the state can meet its obligations and remain solvent, that in short, everything is ship-shape with the state treasury.

Yet there remains a doubt in the public mind, at least in that part of the public which takes more than a passing interest in state fiscal affairs, such as municipal officials. One good way for the administration to set such doubts at rest, if it is on stable ground in its claims, is to release a detailed statement of its plans, something which Heil has thus far declined to do. It is obvious that there must be some question when the claim is made that the dire emergency which existed at legislative adjournment is converted in the space of a few months into a promising, if not rosy, treasury picture.

While the release of such a statement is delayed, the administration can be expected to be confronted with all sorts of rumors as the year wears on, including the report circulated in city halls of Wisconsin for several weeks, and now gaining the respectability of print in the League of Municipalities' magazine, that there is a possibility of deferring another big chunk of state aid due the municipalities in March. That kind of talk can't do Heil any good, may possibly to him much harm.

MARTIN FUTURE
The political future of Attorney General John E. Martin continues to intrigue the capitol.

While it is probable that it should be taken with the proverbial grain of salt, there is a report circulating in Republican quarters now that certain highly-placed G. O. P. figures don't relish the problem of dealing with the Martin situation, and have quietly discussed putting up a regular Republican to oppose him in the primary.

Martin is a Democrat, although he was elected as a Republican, which puts him in a curious position as far as reelection is concerned.

Though he says little, there is reason to believe that his own view is that he is entitled to run again as a Democrat with Republican support. While independent observers concede that he will be a strong candidate, yet it is unlikely that even if they wanted to Republican leaders would be able to prevent other regular Republicans from opposing him for the nomination.

HPL DELEGATE
Some observers are suggesting that it is logical for Gov. Heil, one of the strong supporters for an uninstructed delegation to the Republican national convention, to become a delegate candidate when the uninstructed candidate list is made public. It is pointed out that such a campaign by the governor would suggest, in a degree, whether he has gained or lost in popular support since he was elected 16 months ago.

G. O. P. LETTERS
Down in the thriving little community of Jefferson, behind the cashier's desk of a bank which has been a symbol of community prosperity and stability for more than 80 years, a young and nattily dressed man continues to find in his morning mail letters from fans imploring him to return to the political arena. But Robert K. Henry says nothing. Wise in the ways of politics, he knows that such requests are the stuff out of which strong campaigns are waged, but he isn't likely to move until he knows pretty conclusively where he is going and what the chances of getting there are. In other words, Henry isn't running for anything—yet.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
The Jew and the Snake
Atack and alas, the impermeability of the skin has been invalidated, and set aside, by none other than the good Dr. Brady himself. We see by the papers that he now advocates applying vitamin D in oil to the skin as a remedy for psoriasis. In the name of consistency.

Ans. — It is unbroken skin that is impermeable — and Dr. Brady still offers his for any experiment any reputable physician or scientist cares to try to settle the controversy. In psoriasis and some other conditions the skin is more or less broken and thru the

In other words, Henry isn't running for anything—yet.

New Village Hall At Little Chute Dedicated Sunday

Over 2,000 Persons Inspect Building Constructed Under WPA Project

Little Chute—Little Chute is mighty proud of its new village hall which was dedicated yesterday. Some 2,000 persons inspected the modern, 2-story building during the day and attended the formal dedication program in the evening.

The building, completed recently under a WPA project, houses a large hall, kitchen and fire department on the first floor, shower and dressing rooms and boiler room in the basement, and council room, conference room, village president's office, fire department room, library, general offices and jail on the second floor. A separate outside stairway leads to the jail.

Visitors at the building during the afternoon were entertained by a concert by the Little Chute Community band under the direction of William Novotny, Oshkosh. The band also gave a concert preceding the formal dedication program in the evening.

City Engulfed in February Fog as Mercury Ascends

Winter Sports Followers Watch Thaw Spoil Their Setting

Skaters watched puddles form on ice rinks and skiers saw winter's thin supply of snow dwindle as February brought a mild wave into Wisconsin and the midwest in general.

For the second successive day in Appleton the mercury climbed above the freezing mark, reading 33 at noon today. Yesterday's high of 34 was recorded at noon, according to the Wisconsin Michigan Power company. The minimum, 28, was at 9 o'clock last night.

A thick fog lay over Appleton this morning as citizens went to work. Visibility was cut down to about half a block and motorists drove with headlights burning. The fog lifted during the morning, but the sky remained murky. The Milwaukee weather bureau predicted that cloudiness and mild temperatures will continue through tomorrow.

The Chicago Motor club advised only emergency travel over muddy western highways today.

"Don't go driving if you can stay at home," said Bert Vanderwarf, head of the club's touring bureau.

He explained that yesterday's light snow, followed by a sharp freeze had laid a treacherous skin of ice over roads in eastern Iowa, northern Illinois and Indiana, and parts of Ohio.

The danger belt extended about 150 miles south of Chicago. Vanderwarf said road conditions were unusually dangerous because in spots the ice was so thin it couldn't be melted by drivers.

Republican Heads Favor Hands-Off Delegate Policy

Eighth District Leaders Take Stand at Green Bay Meeting

County Republican officers of the Eighth district at a meeting at Green Bay Saturday adopted a resolution opposing endorsement of any slate of candidates or consideration of any slate at the mid-winter state conference at LaCrosse Feb. 19 and 20.

The Outagamie county Republicans last week took similar action by endorsing a hands-off policy to allow a free and open race for any presidential candidate. The action provides that a free and open delegate race be held, and the purpose is to give the Republican voters an opportunity to express their preference in the April election.

Republican legislators of the Eighth district and county chairmen and vice chairmen will meet with the state chairman at Green Bay Wednesday evening to study the newly proposed state party constitution, according to Elmer Honkamp, district chairman. Honkamp said counties in the district will be holding meetings during the next two weeks to name delegates to the state meeting. Brown county Republicans will meet Thursday evening and Manitowish county Republicans Friday evening, and Honkamp plans to attend both sessions.

The Hotel Stoddard at LaCrosse will be the state convention headquarters, and county chairmen have been urged to file their hotel reservations early. There will be 228 delegates from Wisconsin's 71 counties eligible to attend, though the peak attendance is expected to be about 1500.

Reorganization of the party, with all of its numerous divisions cemented together into one state governing body is expected to be effected with the adoption of a new constitution and by-laws.

4 Cars Involved In Accident; Icy Highway Blamed

Autos Collide Near Underpass on Route 10 West of Appleton

The light snow yesterday put highways in a slippery condition and numerous motorists had to get help to get their cars back onto streets and highways after skidding into snowbanks.

An accident at 12:45 this morning on Highway 10 just west of Appleton involved four cars but no one was injured. Three minor accidents were reported in the city over the weekend.

Cars driven by Harvey G. Meers, 12, 1410 W. Wisconsin avenue, Harold Lambie, 23, 638 N. Appleton street, Ben Weyenberg, 19, Kimberly, and Glen Lathrop, 18, route 1 Hortonville, were involved in the collision on Highway 10 near the railroad viaduct. Meers, Lambie and Weyenberg were traveling east when the Meers car hit the rear of the Lambie car, according to Ronald Decker, county traffic officer. The Lambie car then struck the rear of the Weyenberg car which swerved and was involved in a collision with the Lathrop machine which was traveling west.

Hits Parke's Car
A car driven by Della Ceccon, 20, route 1, West DePere, struck the parked car of Joseph Kov, 911 E. Atlantic street, on Durkee street about 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon. The Chopin car was traveling north at the time, according to a police report.

Cars driven by Jack Priester, 18, 109 Division street, Neenah, and R. L. Kloosterboer, 27, Waupun, collided at 9:15 Sunday afternoon. Priester was going east on Lawrence street and Kloosterboer south on Oneida street when the machines met at the intersection, it was reported to police.

Two cars were involved in a collision on Memorial drive at 5:30 yesterday afternoon. E. R. Heriman, 34, Clintonville, was going north on Memorial drive and starting a left turn to Baker avenue and John Zeneff, 46, Menasha, was going south on the drive when the machines collided, police reported.

Mrs. Charles Hendricks, 70, 1404 N. Superior street, is confined to St. Elizabeth hospital with a broken right leg suffered when the car in which she was riding, and driven by her husband, skidded on a curve near Barton early last night. She was thrown against the front seat of the car.

conditions by which they demoralized the government for their own advantage and profit. They will have dollars where we have dimes.

"Against a united democracy, our enemies are helpless. Between the two great parties are roughly ten million voters who will cast their ballots for the best candidates and the best program that is offered."

Frank McHale, 300-pound national committeeman from Indiana and campaign manager for Paul V. McNutt, sounded out National Chairman James A. Farley on whether the chief executive would run for a third term and said he got nowhere. McNutt is a presidential candidate if Mr. Roosevelt does not run.

Mayor Edward J. Kelly of Chicago and Patrick A. Nasa, Illinois national committeeman who sponsored the petitions to enter the presidential name in the Illinois primary April 9, reiterated that Mr. Roosevelt was their candidate and that they had no second choice.

Adding to the third-term sentiment already evoked by committee members from Kansas and Washington state, Charles E. Broughton, members from Wisconsin, told reporters "we're for a third term in Wisconsin."

Broughton pointed out, however, that Mr. Roosevelt would have to agree to have his name placed on the ballot in order to enter the Wisconsin primary. He expressed doubt that the chief executive would give such consent.

Teachers Discuss Tenure Ruling at Green Bay Meeting

Neenah—The teacher tenure law was discussed at a meeting of presidents, administrators and teachers of teachers' associations Saturday at Green Bay.

Attending from Neenah were Principal J. H. Holzman, Ivan Williams and Marvin Olsen.

It was pointed out at the meeting that the children and not the teachers received the most important consideration from the law. The child, it was said, is entitled to the best possible education, and the tenure law makes the position of the good teachers secure. The only difference is that the boards can't dismiss teachers without a cause.

Mr. Olsen pointed out that there is a great deal of misunderstanding about the law, particularly about the dismissal of teachers. T. law, he said, definitely defines reasons for dismissal.

Under the law, teachers have a probationary period of five years, and if they change positions, they have a 2-year probationary period.

Father Hubbard Appears Before Capacity House

'Glacier Priest' Presents Program for Adults Tonight

Neenah—Father Bernard R. Hubbard, "The Glacier Priest," who is appearing at the Embassy theater today under the sponsorship of the Neenah Lions club, revealed that he has an "appointment" with two Alaskan volcanoes in May.

The priest will conduct his fourteenth Alaskan expedition in which he expects to arrive in the vicinity of the Craters of the Moon just as one of the volcanoes, Amakchak, begins to belch smoke. After an observation of the volcanoes, Father Hubbard, volcanologist and geologist, will go into the Arctic by way of Kobuk river to the Mountain of Kadiak.

Father Hubbard appeared before a capacity house this morning when he showed his film, "Cliff Dwellers of the Far North," to grade school children of Neenah and Menasha. He will perform before Twin City high school students this afternoon, and at 8 o'clock this evening he will give a performance for adults.

Father Hubbard said he'd be traveling in territory in which he has never been. With Nick Cavallieri, famous photographer for Frank Buck, the priest plans to complete motion and sound pictures of all tribes in Alaska, and when completed, he plans to take the recordings to China to study the similarity of the Eskimo language with that spoken in Mongolia.

Father Hubbard says he's convinced that the Eskimo is a descendant of the Genghis Khan's refugees who crossed from Asia in the twelfth century, and he believes he will be able to trace the route of Genghis Khan through the language and tribal music similarity.

League of Decency Reelects Officers, Maps Further Work

Voting not to change the board of directors of Appleton Civic League of Decency for the coming year, the group reelected all officers at its annual meeting Sunday afternoon at the Y.M.C.A. They are Joseph A. Weber, president; George F. Werner, vice president; Herman J. Giesbers, secretary; Mrs. William Nema-check, treasurer; G. D. Ziegler, John Trautmann and Mrs. L. J. Marshall, directors.

The 75 sponsoring groups of Appleton including medical, civic, educational, religious, social and fraternal organizations, voted to continue its clean-up drive on filth in print, both magazines and books. Reference was made to the wave of public opinion against periodicals having frankly objectionable material in them, and an article was quoted from the February issue of the Reader's Digest to prove that the work of all leagues of decency is not only a matter of keen interest to readers generally but that a crystallization of public opinion is now in the making.

Excerpts were read from statements by Warden L. E. Lawes of Sing Sing prison; J. Edgar Hoover, head of the Federal Bureau of Investigation; Sanford Bates, former director of federal prisons; K. P. Aldrich, chief inspector of the post office department; and Frederick Houk Law, director of the National Education association, as to the vicious effect of salacious literature on the moral character of young people.

The league paid tribute to the news distributors and news dealers of Appleton whose attitude during the last year was termed "most friendly and cooperative." A report was given on the spreading of the movement to fight salacious literature through neighboring cities including Marinette, Antigo, Oshkosh and Manitowish.

APPEAR IN CLARE MAJOR PLAY

Two of the leading characters in the Clare Tree Major play, "Dick Whittington and His Cat," which will be presented at 2:30 Tuesday afternoon at Lawrence Memorial chapel are shown above in the costumes they wear in the production. At the left is Jane Cleaveland who takes the part of the lovely daughter of the Sultan, calling the guards to drive away the rats which seem intent on nibbling at her feet, and at the right is Don Bond as Dick Whittington as he arrives in London with his cat and his bundle to find that the streets are not made of gold as he has heard.

Story of Dick Whittington Will be Presented Tuesday

WHEN school children of Appleton troop into Lawrence Memorial chapel at 2:30 Tuesday afternoon to see the first Clare Tree Major play of the season, "Dick Whittington and His Cat," they will be renewing acquaintances with at least one member of the cast who has appeared in children's plays in Appleton before, and will be meeting for the first time some players new to the audiences here. Jane Cleaveland, who plays the part of the cook in

"Dick Whittington," will be remembered as the wicked queen in "Snow White" and the settler mother in "The Captive Maid of Old Carleby."

Don Bond who plays the title role of Dick in the forthcoming play, has the ambition to become a director, but is devoting himself to acting for several years in order to give himself a good background for direction. Fryne Hamden who appears as Mrs. Alice was brought up in England and began her stage career in London, and John Cooke, the captain, attended college in North Carolina and then went to California for movie and theater work. He returned to New York as a radio commentator for the Brooklyn Dodgers on WOR, and took part in several radio dramas.

Hugh Norton, the merchant, has played with many famous stars, among them Leslie Howard in "Hamlet," Fred Stone in "Lightnin'" and Charles Coburn at the Mohawk Festival. He has made recordings of great plays for the library of Congress.

BOOK REVIEW Autobiography of Teacher Is Rich in Gentle Humor

By Jean Wiley Thickens

"A GOODLY FELLOWSHIP" By Mary Ellen Chase The name of Mary Ellen Chase is a familiar one to the thousands of readers who enjoyed "Silas Marner" and "Mary Peters," two simple but heart-warming novels of state of Maine folk. This year's contribution from Miss Chase's truly gifted pen is a modest autobiography, "A Goodly Fellowship." The author explains, in a brief foreword, that she is quite aware that her life story is of small interest except as it reflects startling changes in pedagogical theories and practices over a period of 30-odd years, since she began her teaching career. Its interest as a personal narrative is far greater than she seems to believe however, in respect of the fact that for several years she has been head of the English department at Smith college and a distinguished member of that "goodly fellowship of those who teach."

Miss Chase began her teaching career at the age of 16 in a tiny fishing hamlet in Maine. Here, in a 1-room school house, she was expected to teach the three R's to 49 children, varying in age from 5 to 16. In addition she had several pre-school babies, about 2 years old, dumped on her doorstep each morning. Not that their parents expected their offspring to receive academic instruction, but simply that they were a nuisance and their daily care interrupted the household routine.

Also Was Janitor In addition to her duties as school-marm, and nursemaid, she had the additional duties of a janitor. These included chopping wood, building fires, shoveling snow and keeping the schoolhouse clean. For these multiple labors she received the meager salary of $10 each week. But the experience was invaluable to her in later life. The book is divided into several sections comprising her widely varied experiences. First, in "select finishing school for young gentlewomen" in Chicago, where practically nothing of an academic nature was learned by the 100 girls who attended but where the school's pet charity was financing and stage-managing elaborate funerals for an Old Ladies Home in the neighborhood.

This was followed, after her graduation from college, by a year of German tutoring in Berlin, by a female martinet who worked the hapless student 16 hours a day and abused her harshly when she became weary or homesick. Three years on a Montana cattle ranch where she went to recuperate from tuberculosis, were preceded by a quiet and gracious three years as instructor in the Hillsdale Farm school of Spring Green, Wisconsin. Here in a lovely, smiling valley which the Lloyd-Jones clan had taken over in feudal manner a century earlier, when they migrated from Wales, existed perhaps the most perfect communal life of work, study and play that has existed since the days of the Aztecs of Mexico before the coming of Cortez. One of the many distinguished descendants of this unique Lloyd-Jones family by the way, is Wisconsin's world-famous architect Frank Lloyd Wright.

Miss Chase's book is rich in gentle humor, much of it at her own expense. Only a distinguish-

Tuscania Survivors Hold Annual Reunion

Kenosha—(U)—Nearly 200 members of the National Tuscania Survivors' association met here yesterday in commemoration of the sinking of the British troop ship, Tuscania, off the Scottish coast on Feb. 5, 1918.

The association received an etching by Robert Walker, Scottish artist, depicting the British monument erected on the island of Islay where the Tuscania survivors landed after their ship was torpedoed by a German submarine.

ed personage could afford to tell of the crass ignorance of worldly matters which was hers when she came to Chicago to teach. The most notable of these events was her experience in getting caught on the Dearborn St. bridge when it opened to allow the passage of a river tug. But every page has some such amusing incident. And the book is one which will continue to be a favorite when other far more thrilling and eventful stories have been forgotten.

The liver should pour out two pints of bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food may not digest. It may pile up in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. You feel sour, sick and the world looks pink.

It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pints of bile flowing freely to make you feel "up and up." Amateurs in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. 10¢ and 25¢. Stubbornly refuse anything else.

WISCONSIN INDUSTRIALISTS AT YOUR VERY DOOR STEP

In practically every mill, foundry and factory there is a need for metal hardening or other metal treating. In some instances this need is not known; that is, not known how metal treating can profitably improve the raw material or the finished product or the tools and other equipment used during processes of manufacture. In other instances the need is known, but neglected. Also, the need is known and some companies strive to do their own metal treating in their own shops, many with inadequate facilities, and so, with ineffective, costly results. Finally, there are companies, small and large, with occasional and small, or constant and large requirements, that realize the production importance and economic advantages of metal treating, and desire it; but do not know that it can be obtained, nor where.

All of which leads up to this interesting information.

Wesley Steel Treating Company, Milwaukee, now in its twenty-fifth year, is one of the largest, most completely equipped and expertly manned metal treating plants in the United States. Wesley caters to and offers its services to all mills, foundries and factories, the smallest and the largest; and providing a special service to plants located on the coast and in the Fox River Valley of Wisconsin.

Wesley conducts a motor truck schedule between Milwaukee and Green Bay, and cities en route, calling at industrial mills, foundries and factories for material to be heat treated, and delivering jobs when completed.

Thus the most expert metal treating can be procured, economically in cost and with time and money saved.

Practically every process of metal treating is available in the Wesley plant. Every size tool or machine part, from the tiniest fraction of an inch to 4 ton weight is handled; with a capacity of a car-load a day. Every required equipment, including all of the essential huge ovens, are operated in the Wesley plant. And with that extensive and complete service is included Wesley's advice, counsel and instruction as to various metal treating applications.

The object of this brief "news advice" is to inform industrialists along the Lake Shore and in the Fox River Valley of this Wesley metal treating plant, and to inform plant managers, superintendents, foremen, chemists, and the men working at the benches, that Wesley metal treating service, on the per piece or per pound basis, is so available to improve their work and efficiency, to solve problems of raw iron and steel, to increase their manufacturing products' quality. In short, that metal treating and service can be obtained conveniently and quickly and reliably at Wesley Steel Treating Company, 1533 West Erie St., Milwaukee. Telephone Mitchell 8787.

Little Chute — The local Aces hockey team entrants in the Valley Hockey league scored a 1 to 0 victory over De Pere at the latter city Sunday afternoon. Red Van Thiel scored the marker in the third period on a beautiful shot from the side which sizzled past the goalie before he had a chance to get set.

The game was hard fought with the ice in poor condition due to the thaw and periods were cut down to 15 minutes.

Only one penalty was dished out, that to Dick Van Lanan for tripping while the locals went without a penalty.

Wednesday evening, weather permitting, the loop leaders, Neenah-Menasha Redwings, will invade the local rink for a battle. Friday evening the Aces trek back to De Pere to play a postponed game.

A. A. Considers Landis' Plan Worth Discussing

Columbus, Ohio — American association directors believe that baseball commissioner K. M. Landis' plan to replace farm systems and player agreements between major and minor leagues with outright subsidies for the minors is worthy of consideration.

President George M. Trautman said the consensus among the directors "seemed to be that perhaps there was some good and some bad in the total idea and that it might be wise to appoint a committee from the majors and minors to sit with the commissioner to make a thorough study of the situation."

"Everybody in baseball realizes some change from the present form of office policy in regard to ownership of ball players is necessary," Trautman asserted.

Fists Fly As Appleton Hockey Team Scores 5-3 Win Over Neenah-Menasha

APPLETON hockey team skated to a 5 to 3 win over Neenah-Menasha entry in the Fox River Valley league yesterday afternoon here at Jones park rink.

Wednesday night Appleton plays at Seymour and Sunday will take part in the WPA ice program at Jones park. DePere will be the opponent Sunday.

The invaders started fast in yesterday's game and put two goals into the net in the first period. Markonski drilled one in four minutes and Bud Bretthauer scored the second on a pass from Ben Stepanski in 14 minutes. Menasha drew the only penalty, 2 minutes for illegal checking by Peck.

The second period was a wild and woolly one with a call for the cops almost necessary. Referee Wally Bell tossed Markonski off the ice which brought the Menasha manager, Blank, storming forth and things really looked bad. Blank, landed on the referee which started a melee with skaters and spectators alike getting into action.

While Menasha was short a man, Steoger soloed a score for Appleton in 8 minutes. Then Brach scored on a lucky shot in 10 minutes and Tracy registered an assist from Reid.

The third period saw Appleton score two goals. Braun got one in 8 minutes and another in 11 minutes with L. Brum doing the assisting. After getting its big lead, Appleton played defensive hockey the rest of the way.

Snow on the ice helped the Appleton squad. It tired the invaders while Appleton poured reserves into the contest whenever a home skater showed signs of slowing down.

Last Friday night Appleton lost a 4 to 3 decision to DePere at Green Bay in an overtime. E. Albers scored for DePere and Van Rossum for Appleton in the first period. In the second, Diamond registered for DePere and Steoger for Appleton. The final period saw H. Vaessen count and DePere led 3 to 2. Then J. Steoger scored for Appleton in 16 minutes and the game went into an overtime. In the extra period Vaessens scored for DePere to settle the outcome.

Marquette Cagers to Meet Chicago Next

Milwaukee — (AP) — A 51-45 setback at the hands of Kentucky spurred Marquette cagers in practice today for their game with the University of Chicago here Wednesday night.

Coach Bill Chandler had some consolation in Saturday night's game, because of the return to form of Bobby Densen, senior forward, who had been in a scoring slump since suffering an injury in a pre-Christmas game.

Densen pitched in 21 points against Kentucky to win a scoring duel with Billy Farnley, who scored 18 for the Southeastern conference champions.

Kentucky came from behind, after trailing 26-22 at the intermission, to tie the score 10 times before Red Orme, substitute Kentucky guard, swung the tide with three baskets in the last four minutes of play.

Hoover Tells How He Felt About That Booring in '31

BY SID FEDER

NEW YORK — If you think you feel bad, Mr. Gus C. Baseball fan, when you booped former President Herbert Hoover in the 1931 world series, take Mr. Hoover for it, you weren't feeling any worse than he was at that time when he was in Philadelphia.

Breaking a nine-year silence, the ex-president told the folks at the seventeenth annual dinner of the New York Baseball Writers' association last night just how it felt to receive a large load of the "Bronx Cheers". His remarks shared interest with the general theme of the writers' show, which took varied humorous and "ribbing" turns.

(1) The hoped-for breaking-up of the New York Yankees, so "the rest of us" can have a chance.

(2) The efforts of Judge Kenesaw M. Landis to wipe out "cover-up" activities in the maneuvering of up-and-coming minor league players, such as prompted his recent edict declaring some 90 performers for the Detroit Tigers and affiliated clubs free agents; and

(3) The "nap" Ernie Lombardi, Cincinnati catcher, took at home place in last fall's world series.

The lampooning of these subjects, together with Hoover and the first public boop for Lou Gehrig since last July, drew the major "thunder" from the 1,088 who attended the writer's dinner.

It was Hoover's first public statement on how he felt when, as president, he stepped into his box in Shibe park during the Athletics-Cardinals series of '31, and was greeted with jeers.

"You know," he explained, "there were a number of thirsty people present with no patience for constitutional process."

"But when they greeted me with more than their usual decency when I entered the grandstand, I was really peeved, because I was probably the only man there who obeyed the law and had been thirsty for 11 years."

SATURDAY'S RESULTS

St. Therese 25, St. Joseph 23.
Mt. Olive 19, Congregational 17.
Evangelical 31, St. Mary 27.

St. Therese noted out St. Joseph, 25 to 23, and Mt. Olive, 19 to 17, in two exciting church league games at Y. M. C. A. gymnasium Saturday night. Evangelical trimmed St. Mary by a 31 to 27 count in the third game of the evening.

With Cy Burton sinking a long shot from the middle of the floor to give St. Therese a 1-point lead in the closing minutes of play, St. Therese pulled the game out of the fire and eased St. Joseph out of a first place tie in second round competition. After Black connect from the left side of the floor to give St. Therese a 3-point edge, it was a mad scramble for the ball which was climaxed with two St. Therese men fouling the same man. He drew two gift shots but blew one of them.

Neither team was more than two points ahead during the game as St. Therese showed an 8 to 7 edge at the end of the first quarter, the score was tied, 15-all, at the halfway mark and St. Joseph held a 19 to 18 lead at the end of the third period. Cy Burton and Calmes snarled on offense and defense for the winners while Eastman, DeLeest and Van Ryzin starred for the losers. Calmes led the scoring with eight points while Filen plunked seven.

The Mt. Olive-Congregational fracas was anybody's ball game until the final whistle, the lead changing hands about 12 times. With three minutes remaining, Conso cagers held a 4-point advantage. Koehnke and Gene Pegal each potted buckets from the middle of the floor and Koehnke put Mt. Olive ahead with another field goal.

Congregational had five free throw chances in the last minute and a half but elected to put the ball in play from out of bounds on four occasions. Congregational held a 3-1 lead at the end of the first quarter and Mt. Olive took a 7 to 5 edge at the halfway mark. Congregational showed a thin 13-11 lead at the end of the third frame. Koehnke, McKeefry and Gene Pegal were the big guns for the winners while Boyley, Hulbert and Graff paced the losers.

Evangelicals took the measure of the St. Mary five after jumping into a 9 to 3 lead at the end of the first quarter, showing a 15 to 14 advantage at halftime and a 24 to 16 lead at the end of the third stanza. Evangelical showed a better offense than at any time this season, using Van Dyke in the hole position. Besides Van Dyke, Schwirke and Trautman also played strong games. Muller, McCleone and Choudoir played well for the losers.

MovieLand Its People and Products

By Jimmie Fidler

Hollywood — Here's a news item that makes my hackles rise. It reads: Because of the outstanding social and financial success of the recent dance given for Franco-British war relief, British and French actors have decided to follow up with a similar party each month.

Elsa Maxwell will have charge of a r r arrangements, and a permanent committee will attempt to make future dances top the ten thousand dollar profit gained by the first affair.

And this, mind you, in an industry that has failed shamefully to subscribe its quota to the Community Chest! This in a town where hundreds of people, once prominent in the industry, are, through no fault of their own on the verge of starvation! This in a country where such conditions as those depicted in "Grapes of Wrath" are a public scandal!

I have no quarrel with anyone who wants to contribute to the alleviation of suffering in England and France. Hungry children are just as pitiable in one country as in another. Even in Germany!

But, for the love of Heaven, why not TAKE CARE OF OUR OWN, too, if we're going to be truly charitable!

I understand the next Franco-British soiree is to be held on a "huge sound stage at 20th Century-Fox." Under Elsa Maxwell's skilled direction, it will undoubtedly be a very swank affair featuring our most ultra fur coats and diamond bracelets. Won't it be ironic if that sound stage should happen to be the one on which 20th filmed the misery of the Oakes in "Grapes of Wrath."

IDOL CHATTER: Joan Crawford is never so happy when strutting a new gown that draws feminine "Ahas." Peas-in-a-pod: Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt and Jimmy Stewart. If Ginger Rogers ever has a family, they'll probably refer to her as dancer. The Hollywood playboy's idea of a perfect evening: a smooth date, a slippery floor, a slick hand — and everyone well-oiled. In-a-word description of Joan Davis' acting: super-facial. Despite concert success, Jeanette MacDonald can't have the real primadonna temperament — the same entourage will be with her again this year. Candidates for the best ballroom-dancing award: Rita (Ida's sister) Lupino and Lee Bowman. To get a new fur coat all a Grade A glamour gal need do is give her boy friend the right sighs.

Ida Lupino reports the squelch of the week. Seeing an old lady eyeing boulevard traffic apprehensively, Ida offered to escort her across the street. "I'll have you know," snapped the oldest, "that I'm a Native Daughter. I've been crossing this street for 20 years and I can still do it without help!" (Copyright, 1940)

Babson Charges Economy Talk Is Sheer Hypocrisy

Asserts Roosevelt Has Shattered His Campaign Promises

BY ROGER BABSON

Babson

Babson Park, Mass.—It is going full blast again! The familiar seeds of new year economy, budget-balancing, pay-as-you-go talk are being sown. As usual, the June harvest will be a big deficit, no real economies, another attempt to persecute business. This year's economy talk makes me sadder than ever. The sheer hypocrisy, the brazen effort to bury any and every budgetary and fiscal matter under the simple it is to hoodwink the public on finances—and it has been done shamelessly for eight years. The New Deal rode into Washington on an economy platform. "I ask you very simply to assign to me the task of reducing the annual operating expenses of your government."

"It is my pledge and promise that rigid government economy shall be enforced by a stern and unrelenting policy of living within our income."

Thus spoke candidate Roosevelt in 1932. No promises could have been more completely shattered than these. President Roosevelt promptly doubled spending. As his eighth consecutive budget deficit went to congress last month, his "rigid economies" had succeeded in doubling the nation's debt.

Economy Hopes Fade
Every January there has been much talk of economy, drastic pruning down of expenses, cutting appropriations to the bone. Each January there is talk behind the scenes about the need for new taxes. Then late each session a huge deficiency bill is railroaded through. Late each session there is put on the tax committee to prevent any increase in taxes except on big corporations and millionaires. Each year the national debt gets bigger. Each year there is less and less hope the budget will ever be balanced, that "rigid economy" can ever be practiced in public places.

Worst of all, however, is 1940. This is an election year. No one ever expects congress to be economy-minded in an election year. Congress was economy-minded last year, but the administration was tooth and nail against economy. Now, what does the administration do? The president, knowing congress will oppose economy and will fight new taxes, harps on economy, cries about the need to put defense on a pay-as-you-go basis, brings out the familiar—but still effective—bromides about balancing the budget.

It is not necessary to discuss this demand of the president for economy. Most everybody sees through that. But this pay-as-you-go defense is another matter. (A recent Gallup poll showed that 58 percent of the voters favor to me that the voters should suddenly become concerned about saddling the cost of a billion-dollar defense program on future generations when they have cheerfully allowed the administration to borrow untold billions to squander on plowing up cotton, raking leaves, and destroying little pigs.

The point that bothers me is that the administration, if backed by popular approval, may try to force new taxes on congress this year. Nearly 50 congressmen must be re-elected this year. Few of them will vote for the right kind of a tax in election year. They will not hand their opponents a ready-made, bank-up, vote-getting issue on a silver platter. Under great pressure (which I am not forecasting will be brought to bear) they might well enact a new tax but it will be the wrong kind of a tax—another tax to discourage new employers and to force existing employers out of business.

The right kind of a tax would encourage everyone to work harder, to produce more, to earn more. Such a tax means a broadening of the income tax base. Every voter would then know his congressman has voted for a spending program that his vote would help his own pocket-book—not just Henry Ford's. J. P. Morgan's, Alfred Sloan's. Putting this kind of tax bill through in 1940, however, would be politically impossible. Instead, the discussion is centering around a "super-tax" on those who already pay income taxes. Ten to fifteen per cent is the figure talked about. How many new projects will this super-tax squelch? How many expansion plans will it picnicize? How many jobs will it nip in the bud?

This "super-tax" would raise havoc with our current upswing. Big income taxes have hurt the country and the unemployed more than they have ever helped them. Here is an interesting tabulation:

| Year | National Income  | Rate |
|------|------------------|------|
| 1921 | $38,200,000,000 | 73   |
| 1922 | 61,100,000,000   | 58   |
| 1923 | 69,300,000,000   | 58   |
| 1924 | 71,900,000,000   | 46   |
| 1925 | 76,500,000,000   | 25   |
| 1930 | 70,000,000,000   | 79   |

Is it merely a coincidence that national income (which after all is mainly workers' income) soared from 1921 to 1925, while the peak tax dropped from 73 to 25 per cent? Today's top rate is back to 78 per cent. Maybe that is why national income can't buck through the $70,000,000,000 figure, why government receipts are far below government expenses. In effect, the government's tax policies mean that a wealthy business man can no longer afford to take business chances. A $200,000 loss this year, for instance, can be recovered only after 4 successive years of $200,000 profits! Voters must learn that the cards are not only stacked against the big business man but also against the jobless workers whom he might employ. Let us be honest and recognize the fact!

Garner Followers Feel He Will Get Support From Republicans

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER

Dallas, Tex. — Confidence of the Garner-for-president managers here is sustained by two things. First, they see that in the polls he runs ahead of any Democrat except Mr. Roosevelt.

Second, they believe — on the basis of many promises — that if Mr. Garner were nominated, hordes of Republicans would leap at the opportunity to vote for this Texas Coolidge. Republicans who have never scratched a ticket write in to say that if Mr. Garner is nominated they will cast their first Democratic vote.

The Garner people whistle quite confidently that the course which John L. Lewis pronounced upon their candidate will help him. I suspect that they wish they could be certain of that. They hope William Green of the A. F. of L. will come to their support.

Outside of those directly interested in the Garner candidacy, one hears in various Texas communities, and even here in Dallas, the frequently expressed thought that the pride of the Lone Star state can't get the nomination, and that he is primarily serving as a barrier to a third term for Mr. Roosevelt. That defeatist sentiment is the most difficult fact with which the Garner people have to deal.

Their answer is first to point to the Gallup poll, which gives Mr. Garner a broad lead over everyone except the president. That is their most convincing point. But if Mr. Garner comes up at the finish line as the hero of an anti-Roosevelt movement, and thus incurs the opposition of the bulk of the Roosevelt following, he loses his lead. The lead man will be the one upon whom the bulk of the Roosevelt following lights.

As to the hope of Republican support, unquestionably Mr. Garner is the favorite Democrat among the Republicans. That would mean more if he could be sure that they would vote for him. Democrats played that game in 1924. They nominated a Wall street lawyer, John W. Davis. He was the kind of man the Republicans liked. If he was good enough to be J. P. Morgan's lawyer, he ought to be a good. Indeed, he was a far abler man, in sheer mental ability, and in knowledge of how the world is run at home and abroad, than Mr. Coolidge. The Republicans said Mr. Davis was a fine and able man. Then they voted for Mr. Coolidge.

The Garner people hope it will be different this time. It is mathematically impossible for the Republicans to capture the senate, and there is an argument to be made to Republicans in favor of having a president who can play ball with the Democratic majority that is certain to hold over in the senate.

Garner managers have a large and active headquarters on the sixteenth floor of the Baker hotel here and are active in many states. They are already seeking delegates in New York, Massachusetts, Oregon, California, Florida, and they will go into Georgia if a primary is held. They are staying out of these far

Republican 'Liberals' Will Have Convention

Milwaukee—(P)—There will be a rival convention in La Crosse when the regular Republican state convention is held there Feb. 19.

Peter J. Zisch, executive director of the Citizens' Pension and Recovery Plan, Inc., who is one of the founders of the new liberal Republican Party of Wisconsin, announced that "liberal Republicans" would meet in La Crosse at the same time.

Zisch said the "liberal" convention would endorse a slate of candidates for delegates to the national Republican convention to run under the slogan: "Progressives—$80 at 60" (referring to the plan of his pension group.)

Finns Report 3 Attacks Repulsed

cities, was described defiantly today by Finns as a doomed effort to break their morale.

The night forays, a phase of intensifying Soviet air warfare, have developed during an unrelenting red army land offensive which, so far, has found the Mannerheim line impregnable.

In another futile attempt to break through Karelian isthmus defenses at Summa, 20 miles south of Viipuri, Finns said yesterday, the Russians lost more than 1,000 men. "Heavy" Soviet losses also were reported at Muolajärvi, on the same front.

Two of Finland's main cities, meanwhile, were hard hit by Russian air raiders. Bomb-ignited fires burned through the night in the seaport of Turku and in Viipuri, a city of about 73,000 population at the head of the Gulf of Finland. Explosives rained down from shortly after dawn until far in the night.

Villages Raided
For the last few nights, red army planes have been flying far behind the Finnish lines. Finns, charging the Russians bombed at random on these flights, reported one of the heaviest raids last night on villages and farms near Lake Saimaa.

Missiles fell through the dark hours, they said. Commenting that there was nothing in the area except agriculture, they called the raids a deliberate effort to terrorize the population.

"Little do our neighbors understand us, if they think what is happening will scare us into submission," declared one Finnish editor. "It is possible it will only make us fight harder."

Among the buildings reduced to ruins at Viipuri was the city's seventeenth century cathedral, famed for its stained glass windows, art treasures and one of the largest organs in Europe.

Although Finland's air force attempted to combat the invading fliers, and was reported to have shot down 11 planes, wave after wave of Russian bombers droned over the Finnish frontier over the weekend. The Finns reported 40 civilians killed and 50 wounded Friday, but total casualties were not known.

Two Cases of Scarlet Fever Reported in Week

Two new cases of scarlet fever making three active cases in the city, were reported to the city health department last week, according to Claude N. Greisch, deputy health officer. The cases were reported from Washington and Franklin public schools and St. Joseph Parochial school. Also reported were five cases of chicken pox, two cases of whooping cough and one of tuberculosis. Besides the three scarlet fever cases, active cases in the city are eight of chicken pox, and seventeen of whooping cough.

Broughton Says State Is For a Third Term

Washington — (P)—Charles E. Broughton, Sheboygan editor and Democratic national committeeman from Wisconsin, told interviewers here yesterday that "we're for a third term (for President Roosevelt) in Wisconsin."

Broughton pointed out, however, that Mr. Roosevelt would have to agree to have his name placed on the ballot before it could be entered in the Wisconsin presidential preference primary in April.

He expressed doubt that the chief executive would give such consent.

Stock Leaders Are Inclined to Give Up Ground

Session Is One of Slowest This Year: Transfers Total 450,000

New York — (P)—Stock leaders inclined to slope moderately downward in today's market.

While a handful of specialties managed to hold modest advances, declines of fractions to a point or so were generously sprinkled over the list at the close.

No great importance, however, was attached to price shifts in view of the slackness of dealings throughout. Transfers were around 450,000 shares, one of the low volumes of the year to date.

Industrial news provided scant stimulation and Wall Street remained at the listening post of politics on the chance the meeting of the Democratic national committee might give a clue regarding the coming presidential campaign and the "third term" question.

A drop in this week's steel mill operations of 5.6 points to 71.7 per cent of capacity, a bottom mark since last September, clouded stocks in this group. The recession, at the same time, was in line with forecasts.

Bonds were steady and a rally in grains at Chicago was bolstering for shares. Wheat was up 1/2 of a cent a bushel and corn gained 1/2 to 11. Cotton, in late transactions, was up 20 to 40 cents a bale. Foreign securities markets dropped.

Pegler Says Income Taxpayer Ought to be Treated Better

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York — A person wants to be careful not to speak out of turn these days, and I don't know but that I am leading with my chin when I suggest that a man who pays an income tax is as good as the man who doesn't, and ought to have the same rights I am thinking of the inequality between the status of minor children of income tax payers and that of the young people whom the New Deal classifies as youth. The minor child of a taxpayer is deemed to be old enough to get out and scuffle for his or her own living at the age of 18, but youth is officially regarded as dependent up to the age of 25. The taxpayer is allowed to deduct $400 a year from his income for each dependent child under the age of 18. The deduction is not allowed after that, even though the expense of clothing and educating a young man or woman obviously is greater than that of maintaining a child.

They eat more at 18 than they do at 8; they need a little money for cigarettes, phone calls, gas and dates, and their education at that stage of the game calls for tuition and rather expensive books. But the government's theory holds that any young one who can't make his or her own way after 18 is a loafer if the old man is an income tax payer, but that this large class known as youth should be subsidized and gentled along much farther, in fact, up to the age of 25.

The income tax payer is compelled to pay for the education and support of his neighbor's children beyond 18, but is supposed to kick out his own into the weather—which is rather severe at the current writing.

Worse than that, if a taxpayer's kid does show a dash of speed, intelligence and ability and earns an income by his own efforts, the government then reverses its position and holds that, although he is not any longer a dependent of the old gent, nevertheless, the young one's income belongs to the family kitty, in the old man's name.

Even though the kid has supported himself with his earnings in conformity with the treasury's rules of domestic economy laid down for income tax payers, the sum of his earnings is added to the old man's in order to boost the old man's figure into a higher bracket. Thus in one case with which I am familiar the kid's earnings of about $25 a week cost the father about $800 in surtaxes which promptly was distributed among the offsprings of nonpayers for their assistance in the difficult years beyond 18.

Describes Plight Of Young Woman Wage Earner

In another case a young woman earning a pretty good salary, but nothing scandalous, is not permitted to make any deduction for the support and education of her younger sister, who is 20, the girls being on their own. Naturally, the wage-earning young woman bares her pearly fangs and snarls slightly over the proposition that her sister is less entitled to a few honest comforts and a thin smear of learning than the young mugs around and about them who are allowed to put in for assistance because their parents are doing poorly. Her annoyance is aggravated by the knowledge that some portion of the take which the government razors off the top of her salary is used for the assistance of those who are—outwardly, anyway—not better than her young sister.

It may have been observed, too, that there is now in the works in Washington a billhoo to increase the assistance to the scions of nonpayers of the income tax and to set the knives to take a little deeper cut of such salaries as this young woman's.

The same general discrimination against the taxpaying type of citizen exists in the problem of allowances for the support of dependents who are not children. If they are clear out of the youth zone as to age, on the right side of decrepitude and in tolerable health, no deduction may be made for their support even though the taxpayer's private assistance is all that keeps them off the public assistance rolls. But at the same time families of them, are supported—not luxuriously, it is true—on funds contributed by the same taxpayer and, often, at a rate higher than the figure of $400 a year per person which is all that the government deems necessary for the support of any legal dependent of the taxpayer, except his wife or her husband.

I do not know who it was that hit upon the figure of $400 a year as adequate for the support of a human being, even in a separate domicile, or how he arrived at that sum. Certainly it is a sub-standard figure, and everyone has heard the angry outcry that has been raised by New Deal social planners in recent years over the ghastly situation of people whose earnings are down around there, not counting their quarters and something in the way of food.

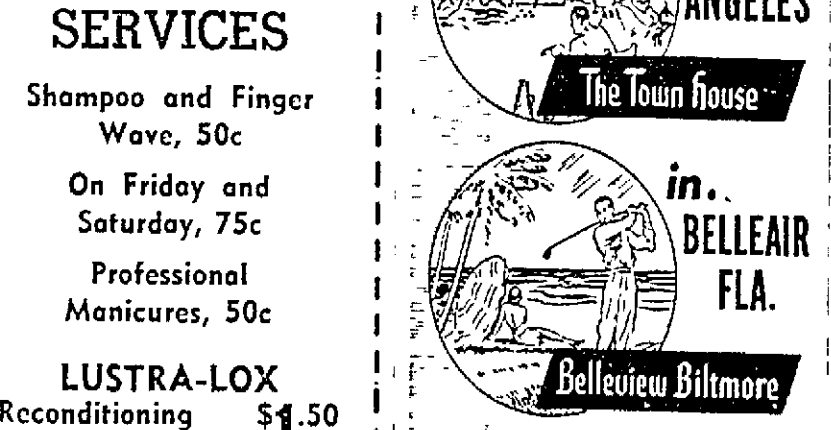

But I hedge away from questions of adequacy and confine my discussion to the obvious and insulting discrimination against the kin of the taxpayer.

What have we against income tax payers, anyway, that we place the breed in a human category below that of the non?
